Circleville Fastest Growing City in 6th Congressional Dist.

Circleville is the fastest growing city in the Sixth Congressional District. Pickaway County ranks third in growth in the nine-county area.

In preliminary figures released today by Don E. Fuller, Chillicothe, district supervisor for the Bureau of the Census, Circleville shows a growth of 26.2 per cent. That growth is tops in the district among cities of 10,000 or more population.

Other city figures show Chillicothe grew 22.8 per cent; Washington C. H. 16.2 per cent and Portsmouth lost 9.2 per cent. Circleville still is the smallest of the cities. New 1960 population figures show Circleville to have 11,010 persons; Washington C. H., 12,267; Chillicothe, 24,732, and Portsmouth, 33,410.

Pickaway County's total growth of 21.4 per cent is topped by the growth in Clermont County which was a whopping 89.3 per cent, and Pike County which was 32.1 per cent.

Clermont County, near Cincinnati, grew from 42,182 in 1950 to 79,863 in 1960. Pike County grew from 14,607 in 1950 to 19,301 in 1960.

PERCENTAGE growth in other Sixth District counties was Brown County, 18.4 per cent; Ross County 11.4 per cent; Fayette County 9.0 per cent; Highland County 4.5 per cent; Scioto County .87 per cent, and Adams County showed a 3.1 per cent loss.

For the district as a whole the population increased from 316,937 in 1950 to 379,292 in 1960, or 19.6 per cent.

Here are the total county population figures for the Sixth District counties, both 1950 and 1960:

Clermont County, 42,182 to 79,863 in 1960; Pike County, 14,607 to 19,301; Pickaway, 29,352 to 35,682; Brown, 22,221 to 26,314; Ross 54,424 to 60,629; Fayette, 22,554 to 24,593; Highland, 28,188 to 29,465; Scioto, 82,910 to 83,637; and Adams, 20,499 to 19,862.

Most populace county is still Scioto, while the other eight are ranked in order, Clermont, Ross, Pickaway, Highland, Brown, Fayette, Adams and Pike.

Fuller said, "These figures are believed to be substantially correct, but are subject to revision after the returns for non-residents are credited to the proper locality, been made."

"Although a significant revision is unlikely, minor revision may possibly occur after careful examination of the returns. The official announcement of population will be made at a later date by the Director of the Bureau of the Census."

The official closing of the District Office of the Bureau of the Census in Chillicothe, Ohio will be accomplished shortly.

U.S. Ties Red Accusations to Internal Fuss

U.N. Council Hears Contentions Advanced By American Envoy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge charged today the Soviet Union deliberately manufactured the current crisis over spy plane flights because of internal political difficulties.

The U.S. delegate told the U.N. Security Council that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had distorted President Eisenhower's address to the nation Wednesday night in order to keep the crisis boiling.

Lodge spoke as the 11-nation council neared a vote—and a possible Soviet veto—on a small nation resolution calling for renewed East-West negotiations with the aid of the United Nations.

Lodge vigorously denied Eisenhower had said the United States was prepared to continue a policy of espionage and sabotage. Gromyko declared Thursday that the President had placed mankind on the brink of war by confirming such a policy.

"That is what the Soviet foreign minister said about Dwight D. Eisenhower whose love of peace is a household word throughout the world," Lodge said. "Any honest reading of the President's speech shows that he said no such thing. One thing the United States has never engaged in is sabotage."

Lodge asked why Gromyko continues to talk as though he regrets Eisenhower's declaration halting U2 flights over Soviet territory.

"For some reason emanating from Soviet internal politics," he said, "he wants to have a pretext for a new zig-zag in Soviet foreign policy."

He said Communist agitators must have a grievance as a rallying point.

Lodge did not go into detail on the Soviet internal situation. But Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said in Washington there were numerous indications Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was under pressure from both colleagues in the Kremlin and the Chinese Communists on matters of foreign policy.

Gromyko took the floor later to press for a series of Soviet amendments to the small nation resolution. He sought to revise the proposal to include an indictment of unauthorized flights by planes of one country over the territory of another.

The Western powers opposed the Soviet amendments.

Gromyko again took off on U.S. policy and once more criticized Eisenhower personally.

He said Khrushchev had spoken many good words in favor of Eisenhower, but added:

"How can we assess, how can we qualify the position of the Soviet government, when the head of the U.S. government himself proclaims an unprecedented and unheard-of policy of gross and flagrant violation of the sovereignty of the Soviet Union?"

That was what Gov. John H. Reed saw Thursday when an automobile hurtled through a high school band marching for a parade. Twelve children were injured.

Kenneth Shepler Replaces Huffer as No. 1 Democrat

Kenneth E. Shepler, Route 1, in a surprise move last night was elected chairman of the Pickaway Democratic Executive Committee during its re-organization meeting.

The Pickaway Twp. farmer unseated Robert H. Huffer, 426 N. Court St., executive committee chairman since the summer of 1956.

The meeting of newly elected Democratic central committeemen is held every two years, immediately following committeemen elections, which were at the May 3 primary.

State law requires this meeting to be held to reorganize the central and executive committees and appoint persons to fill vacancies in precincts where no one ran for election.

A MEAGER 14 of the 24 persons elected were on hand last night in the Pickaway County Common Pleas courtroom.

Shepler had no opposition for the chairmanship. Gordon A. Perrill, Route 1, Ashville, was named vice chairman. He is a local auctioneer.

Mrs. William McGinnis Jr., 838 Atwater Ave., was elected secretary, and Harry J. Clifton, McGraw Ave., was named treasurer. Mrs. McGinnis is a teacher in the Circleville school system.

Clifton, a local farmer and bank director, was the only executive committee officer re-elected.

Frank L. Marion, 217 N. Scioto St., was elected chairman of the central committee. He is an associate of the local Ohio Fuel Gas Co. branch office.

Lewis J. Hay, Route 1, Lockbourne, was named central committee vice chairman. Mrs. Mary Phillips Fullen, 215 W. Main St., was named secretary, and Dr. E. L. Montgomery, 108 Seyfert Ave., was elected treasurer.

Huffer, Charles Morris, Hay and Ted Corcoran were named to a screening committee and Montgomery, Morris and Huffer were appointed to the policy committee.

Sheriff Urges Driving Care

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today urged area motorists to observe all traffic precautions starting today on the eve of the long Memorial Day weekend.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said all available personnel will be on duty to help handle the expected overflow of traffic.

The sheriff said his department will work on a schedule calling for holiday traffic to start at 6 p. m. today and end midnight Monday.

Radcliff said speeders and other violators will draw the special attention of his department. Based on past holiday records, he said excessive speed again probably will be the No. 1 cause of highway mishaps.

The sheriff also urged drivers to take extra precaution in case heavy rains and storms continue here.

Bloodless Coup Ends Rule By Strongman

Army Rebels Pledge Free Elections, Control to Winner

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Turkey's armed forces today took over control of the nation in a bloodless coup d'etat sparked by mounting public dissatisfaction with the strongman rule of Premier Adnan Menderes.

The military rebels promised to hold free elections, then hand over the government to the winners.

The army move followed a month of unrest which began with student demonstrations against Menderes and his government's oppressive measures against the Premier's chief political opposition, the Republican People's party of former President Ismet Inonu.

Reports reaching London said Menderes was captured on the Kutahya road. Kutahya is near Eskisehir, where Menderes addressed a meeting Thursday.

Ankara radio, monitored in Belgrade, reported Menderes had been caught and taken to Ankara. The broadcast announcement was signed by Gen. Cemal Gursel, General of the army, on behalf of the National Unity Committee.

Gursel's identity was not clear — some reports identified him as a Brig. Gursel. On May 5, Lt. Gen. Cemal Gursel resigned as chief of Turkish army ground forces during a period of enforced leave for an undisclosed reason.

At that time he issued a statement warning his troops to stay out of politics and "protect yourselves from this nefarious atmosphere."

The rebels were quick to assure the West that Menderes' overthrow meant no change in Turkey's staunch alliance with the West against Soviet communism.

An Ankara broadcast said Turkey, Middle Eastern anchor of the Western defense line, would remain loyal to its membership in the North Atlantic and Central Treaty (CENTO) alliances.

In broadcasts over Ankara radio, Turkey's new military rulers called on all persons to stay at home and to obey the instructions of the military.

The military group said it had acted "because of the crisis through which democracy in Turkey is passing" and "to avoid national fratricide."

It said it would stay in power until "free and honest elections" could be held, then would hand over the nation's administration to the winners of the election.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had been informed that all branches of the Turkish military participated in the revolt.

The British Foreign Office said its reports from Turkey indicated that the country was quiet.

Telephone communications with Istanbul were out.

All commercial communications with the outside world appeared to have been cut off summarily this morning.

Despite the word from Turkey that the coup was bloodless, one report to the British foreign office said the takeover was preceded by shooting in the streets of Ankara before dawn.

Informants said there had been several clear signs of the impending coup.

One of the most important was that an entire group of senior army officers, commanding key units in European Turkey, had been dismissed by the Menderes government on suspicions of "disloyalty" to the regime. The officers ranged from brigadiers to generals. Their replacement, according to informants, were younger men.

Wind Uproots Trees; Water Drowns Cars

Two Plants Halted By Storm, Barn Near Williamsport Burns

Mother Nature "pulled the plug" last night, drenching Pickaway County with a thundering avalanche of rain, the heaviest and most intense here in many years.

A total of 2.16 inches of rain fell yesterday, 1.95 inches descending in 40 minutes, nearly equaling a 63-year central Ohio record for intense precipitation.

The mountain of rain and hail was preceded by ominous black clouds, pitching the area from bright sunshine into nightfall within minutes.

But this advance warning didn't foretell the force behind the rain. Winds raging more than 50 miles waged destruction in its path. Trees were handled like twigs, falling over power and telephone lines and cutting off electric to many areas.

A fantastic electrical storm accompanied the wind and rain for the full treatment. A barn near Williamsport was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

A FLASH flood was created, swelling county creeks and streams to overflowing. Underpasses were flooded stalling cars throughout the area. Many streets here and in Ashville were flooded as storm sewers were unable to handle the overflow.

Production at two local industries was interrupted. Despite the tornado impact of the wind and rain, no serious damage was incurred.

The storm hit around 5:25 p. m. yesterday, after more than an hour of darkening skies, stirring winds and pecks of rain.

Then the heavens opened up with all their fury and the most dynamic thunderstorm in years began whipping its destructive way throughout the countryside, leaving a wake of quaking automobiles, fallen trees and limbs and muddy waters.

The storm, the worst in the state, lashed an eight-mile path, including the area between Circleville and Ashville. Some observers said Ashville was hit the hardest.

Other central Ohio communities were barely affected by the storm. Columbus received 0.04 of an inch, Sedalia had 0.13 of an inch and Washington C. H. registered 0.37 of an inch.

To the east at the tailend of the raging storm, Enterprise received 0.8 of an inch and Athens has a 1/4-inch. Chillicothe recorded 0.42 of an inch and Bourneville had 1.53 inches.

Port Columbus Weather Station officials said this probably was the most intense rainfall since 1897 when Central Ohio was deluged with 2.83 inches of precipitation in one hour and 2.22 inches in a half hour.

THE LAST heavy rain in the county came on Aug. 31, 1956 when 3.01 inches fell in a 24-hour period.

The rain was welcomed, but its force wasn't appreciated. An untold number of gardens and flower beds were destroyed as plants were literally flattened and driven into the ground.

The Circleville Police Department was swamped with calls shortly after the rain started. Most complaints concerned fallen trees, tree limbs, electric wires and high water at various streets.

Patrolman William Goff said about 2 1/2 feet of water quickly accumulated at Court and Pleasant Sts., Court and High Sts. and Court and Logan Sts. Officers said several Norfolk and Western Railway crossings in the south end were blocked.

Police said they picked up several youths caught on the sidewalks by torrents of rain. They said the rides home were greatly appreciated by the children.

The sheriff's department reported a minor accident on the Island Road near the A&P Store when the storm was in full swing. No injuries were listed.

Deputies said at least four vehicles became stalled on old Route 23 at Belle Siding when a heavy flow of water swept into the underpass. This section of highway was quickly barricaded by the Pickaway County Engineer's Department.

The local State Highway Garage said they pressed two crews into service shortly after the storm started. Men said they were working on Route 316 lead-

Gary Dean will play a saxophone solo entitled "Beautiful Colorado" by DeLuca - Roberts. J. Wray Henry, high school principal, will make the presentation of awards and class.

Carl C. Leist, president of the Circleville Board of Education, will present diplomas. The band and audience will conclude exercises by singing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by Steffe.

Today Last School Day

For some 2,800 Circleville school students today was the last day of classes.

Although rain today ruined some picnic plans, the youngsters didn't seem to mind too much.

Only a return to school next Wednesday to receive report cards remains on the agenda for the youngsters.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Scientists are confident they can send a man into space and get him back safely. But they aren't sure how he'll do while he's up there.

At that time he issued a statement warning his troops to stay out of politics and "protect yourselves from this nefarious atmosphere."

The rebels were quick to assure the West that Menderes' overthrow meant no change in Turkey's staunch alliance with the West against Soviet communism. An Ankara broadcast said Turkey, Middle Eastern anchor of the Western defense line, would remain loyal to its membership in the North Atlantic and Central Treaty (CENTO) alliances.

In broadcasts over Ankara radio, Turkey's new military rulers called on all persons to stay at home and to obey the instructions of the military.

The military group said it had acted "because of the crisis through which democracy in Turkey is passing" and "to avoid national fratricide."

It said it would stay in power until "free and honest elections" could be held, then would hand over the nation's administration to the winners of the election.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had been informed that all branches of the Turkish military participated in the revolt.

The British Foreign Office said its reports from Turkey indicated that the country was quiet.

Telephone communications with Istanbul were out.

All commercial communications with the outside world appeared to have been cut off summarily this morning.

Despite the word from Turkey that the coup was bloodless, one report to the British foreign office said the takeover was preceded by shooting in the streets of Ankara before dawn.

Informants said there had been several clear signs of the impending coup.

One of the most important was that an entire group of senior army officers, commanding key units in European Turkey, had been dismissed by the Menderes government on suspicions of "disloyalty" to the regime. The officers ranged from brigadiers to "generals. Their replacement, according to informants, were younger men.

Wind Uproots Trees; Water Drowns Cars

Two Plants Halted By Storm, Barn Near Williamsport Burns

Mother Nature "pulled the plug" last night, drenching Pickaway County with a thundering avalanche of rain, the heaviest and most intense here in many years.

A total of 2.16 inches of rain fell yesterday, 1.95 inches descending in 40 minutes, nearly equaling a 63-year central Ohio record for intense precipitation.

The mountain of rain and hail was preceded by ominous black clouds, pitching the area from bright sunshine into nightfall within minutes.

But this advance warning didn't foretell the force behind the rain. Winds raging more than 50 miles waged destruction in its path. Trees were handled like twigs, falling over power and telephone lines and cutting off electric to many areas.

A fast-paced electrical storm accompanied the wind and rain for the full treatment. A barn near Williamsport was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

A FLASH flood was created, swelling county creeks and streams to overflowing. Underpasses were flooded stalling cars throughout the area. Many streets here and in Ashville were flooded as storm sewers were unable to handle the overflow.

Production at two local industries was interrupted. Despite the tornado impact of the wind and rain, no serious damage was incurred.

The storm hit around 5:25 p. m. yesterday, after more than an hour of darkening skies, stirring winds and pecks of rain.

Then the heavens opened up with all their fury and the most dynamic thunderstorm in years began whipping its destructive way throughout the countryside, leaving a wake of quaking automobiles, fallen trees and limbs and muddy waters.

The storm, the worst in the state, lashed an eight-mile path, including the area between Circleville and Ashville. Some observers said Ashville was hit the hardest.

Other central Ohio communities were barely affected by the storm. Columbus received 0.04 of an inch. Sedalia had 0.13 of an inch and Washington C. H. registered 0.37 of an inch.

To the east at the tailend of the raging storm, Enterprise received 0.8 of an inch and Athens has a 1/2-inch. Chillicothe recorded 0.42 of an inch and Bourneville had 1.53 inches.

Port Columbus Weather Station officials said this probably was the most intense rainfall since 1887 when Central Ohio was deluged with 2.83 inches of precipitation in one hour and 2.22 inches in a half hour.

THE LAST heavy rain in the county came on Aug. 31, 1956 when 3.01 inches fell in a 24-hour period.

The rain was welcomed, but its force wasn't appreciated. An untold number of gardens and flower beds were destroyed as plants were literally flattened and driven into the ground.

The Circleville Police Department was swamped with calls shortly after the rain started. Most complaints concerned fallen trees, tree limbs, electric wires and high water at various streets.

Patrolman William Goff said about 2 1/2 feet of water quickly accumulated at Court and Pleasant Sts., Court and High Sts. and Court and Logan Sts. Officers said several Norfolk and Western Railway crossings in the southend were blocked.

Police said they picked up several youths caught on the sidewalks by torrents of rain. They said the rides home were greatly appreciated by the children.

The sheriff's department reported a minor accident on the Island Road near the A&P Store when the storm was in full swing. No injuries were listed.

Deputies said at least four vehicles became stalled on old Route 23 at Belle Siding when a heavy flow of water swept into the underpass. This section of highway was quickly barricaded by the Pickaway County Engineer's Department.

The local State Highway Garage said they pressed two crews into service shortly after the storm started. Menmen said barricades were erected on Route 316 leading to Williamsport.

Priest Named Jaycee Head

Nagel, Hill Get Vice Presidencies

LAURENCE E. PRIEST

Laurence E. Priest, 711 N. Court St., last night was elected President of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The annual election night banquet was held at the Pickaway Country Club where members were served a ham buffet dinner and refreshments.

A total of 38 members and guests were on hand for one of the largest turnouts ever registered at a Jaycee session.

Harold Nagel, 161 Edison Ave., was elected first vice president and Donald E. Hill, Knollwood Village, was named second vice president.

JACK F. ALKIRE, 123 W. High St., was elected secretary and Ronald D. Culp, 475 N. Court St., was named treasurer.

The 25-year-old Priest is a native of Cleveland and a 1954 graduate of Howe Military School, Howe, Ind. He attended Ohio State University prior to joining City Loan & Savings Co.

He is an assistant manager at the local branch of City Loan. Priest has been with City Loan for four years. He joined the Jaycees in February, 1957 and has been a director and state representative.

Presently Priest is serving as treasurer of the club. He is a past treasurer of the Salvation Army and is an Airman 2-C in the Ohio Air National Guard.

Nagel is owner-operator of Circleville Fast Freeze, 161 Edison Ave. He is a past secretary and director. Hill is a native here, is associated with his father in the

Today Last School Day

For some 2,800 Circleville school students today was the last day of classes.

Although rain today ruined some picnic plans, the youngsters didn't seem to mind too much.

Only a return to school next Wednesday to receive report cards remains on the agenda for the youngsters.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democrats outvoted Republicans by more than 78,000 in the May 3 primary elections, official returns showed today.

In 1958 primaries, Ohio Democrats outvoted Republicans by about 100,000 votes. That was a prelude to a virtual Democratic sweep in November.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned Congress today that in the aftermath of the summit conference collapse the United States must be prepared "to withstand aggressive pressures from Russia" in Berlin and elsewhere.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Traffic law violators "will not be treated lightly" if caught over the long Memorial Day weekend, says Col. Scott B. Radcliffe.

Radcliffe, superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, said Thursday that preparations for the first big traffic battle of the year had begun.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Argentine police are investigating reports that Israeli security agents captured Adolf Eichmann in Argentina and sneaked him out of the country last weekend.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inclusion of an antisegregation amendment raised questions today about Senate acceptance of the first general school construction bill ever passed by the House.

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A ballistics expert testified today that the sniper bullet which killed Charles R. Clark in his Mentor home last Christmas Eve was fired from the same gun that the state contends Floyd E. Hargrove used to test-fire a bullet into a utility pole.

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government today informed the United States that its invitation to President Eisenhower to visit next month still stands despite growing left-wing demonstrations demanding that it be called off.

CHICAGO (AP)—The threat of the first system-wide strike since 1922 faces the huge Pennsylvania Railroad today.

President Michael J. Quill of the Transport Workers Union of America said there is a "strong likelihood" 25,000 members of his union in 46 locals will act contrary to his advice and quit work at 4 p. m. (EST).

MADAWASKA, Maine (AP) — "Children were tossed into the air and all over the place. It was terrible — one of the most tragic scenes I've ever witnessed."

That was what Gov. John H. Reed said Thursday when an automobile hurtled through a high school band massing for a parade. Twelve children were injured.

NEW YORK (AP)—A rallying movement faltered and left the stock market irregular with a slight gain on average early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The retrial of red-haired Carole Tregoff, 23, and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, charged with murder, has been delayed until June 20.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today that three of its alpinists have conquered Mt. Everest from the sheer north face.

Chile Steps Up Rescue Operations

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Clearing weather and an easing of nature's onslaughts today spurred rescue and aid operations in quake and tidal wave-devastated southern Chile. It was feared the death toll would top 5,000.

Official figures Thursday night showed 2,829 dead or missing. But with scores of communities still cut off by six days of violent earth upheavals and tidal waves, officials said a final count could not be made for weeks.

Big Outpouring Of Dollars Seen During Holiday

Memorial Day Listed
As First of Three
3-Day Weekends

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The three-day Memorial Day weekend—the first of the three long summer holidays—will see a great outpouring of dollars as well as of gadding leisure lovers.

Whatever qualms some industries and stock market traders may have about the 1960 outlook, and whatever alarms on the international front may send shivers through some economic planners, the businessmen who cater to recreation activities of Americans say they are sitting pretty.

They look for record sales this year for one of the nation's fastest growing industries — leisure. And many business firms benefit by this strong trend in American life.

The National Safety Council, for example, believes, that at some time over the Memorial Day holiday almost every one of the nation's 71 million motor cars will be on the road.

This pleases not only the makers of autos, tires and batteries, but also the producers and sellers of oil and gasoline, who have been disturbed by their more than ample supplies.

Travel agents estimate that domestic gadding this year should see 18 billion dollars changing hands. Most of the actual movement will be in the family car.

A brokerage firm, Frances I. du Pont & Co., estimates that spending in the leisure and recreation field will set a high of 43 billion dollars this year, up two billion dollars from last year.

Some of the things it lists: sales in the fishing field 2½ billion dollars, swimming 1½ billion, hunting a billion, bowling a billion, golf 800 million.

Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp., a leader in financing of autos, pleasure boats, home improvements, swimming pools and mobile homes, take a look at activities that all the family enjoy.

It estimates consumers will spend 2½ billion dollars on recreational boating, a gain of 300 million dollars over last year; homeowners will put a billion dollars into swimming pools, 12 billion dollars on do-it-yourself items and garden supplies, and 3¼ billion on TV sets, radios, phonographs, records and musical instruments.

Since installment financing—running at a record high of 40 billion

White Radar Dome on Green Hilltop Constantly Guards Ohio's Millions

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—Atop the highest point in Ohio, on a small green hill, sits a white radar dome which has the job of protecting millions of Ohioans from enemy air attack.

Passersby would look at the well-kept lawns and buildings blended neatly into the countryside and accept it as just another military base. But housed within the peaceful looking buildings is equipment that would make Buck Rogers or Flash Gordon envious.

And this equipment has the difficult task of defending highly industrialized Ohio from enemy bombers.

Gone are the days of the radar operator sitting behind a radar scope in a darkened room looking for aircraft that appear on his set. Gone are the days of the man standing behind the transparent plotting board drawing arrows which represent the planes the operators have found on their scopes.

Since September 1959 the 644th Radar Squadron just southeast of Bellefontaine in Logan County has been integrated into a fantastic new system called SAGE—Semi-Automatic Ground Environment plan. SAGE is a system which does everything by itself without very much help from man.

It does it faster, more accurately, and with greater capacity than the old radar operator once did. C. W. O. Vernon F. Scott, communications and electronics chief at the base, said: "Thank God we have it! I sleep much better at night knowing that the SAGE system is working for us."

Actually, with the new system the 644th only monitors the equipment. All aircraft signs picked up by the search radar, housed within the white radar dome, are within a fraction of a second relayed

to the Detroit Air Defense Sector at Battle Creek, Mich., where two large computers store the information until it is needed.

"You should see those computers, too," said Scott. "There are two of them. A main one and a back-up. And it is really funny because if one gives the wrong information the back-up will start flashing lights and ringing bells to let you know the main computer has made a mistake. Almost like two kids telling on each other."

The defense sector displays and acts upon all information sent to them by the radar site. The two computers do all the thinking mechanically and only need assistance from man to get things rolling. The Detroit sector has Ohio included in its area of responsibility.

Yet the job of the men at the 644th is an important one. The equipment needed to keep an automatic tracking system working is complicated and awesome in its size. Flashing lights, huge metal containers housing equipment necessary for the transmission of information, and row upon row of electronic equipment all add up to a 100 per cent effort by all to keep things running.

The radar at the 644th is responsible for searching and detecting all aircraft entering its area. And its area is great. Toledo, Akron, Youngstown, Columbus, Dayton, Steubenville, Cleveland and Lorain all are protected by the electronic net spread out by the search radar of the 644th.

To the 135 men of the squadron the work is almost routine. There is no publicity, no fanfare and applause that some of the other branches of the air force enjoy. Their job is one of continually looking and waiting for the time everyone hopes will never come. For it will not be until enemy planes are on the way that SAGE will ever be tested to find out just how good it is.

The men that work with SAGE have complete confidence in it and say that it is far superior when compared to the old manual system of radar operators and controllers who used to direct fighters to their assigned targets.

But just how good is the system? What if one plane, carrying one bomb tried to attack Youngstown or Columbus? Could it get through the net?

Capt. Charles Turner, information officer of the Detroit Air Defense Sector, said:

"I couldn't really answer that. There are too many things that have to be taken into consideration. There are too many variables. I like to think we could get him though," Turner said.

"But one thing is sure," he added. "The defense is not as good as the offense, because if it were, there would be no need for an offense."

On and on it goes. Tests are run continually. B-52s, Strategic Air Command bombers, run exercises to see if they can sneak through the net. Some do, but most of them are detected and intercepted.

The real picture of air defense in Ohio can be seen only from the sector located at Custer Air Force Base at Battle Creek, Mich., for it is here where the real battle is waged.

How does this system work? How can a piece of machinery remember all the information that used to tax the brains of 50 men?

Let us say a civilian jet transport takes off from New York and is flying to Chicago. Before the plane takes off the pilot must file a flight plan—the route he is going to fly. Information on the flight plan also includes speed, altitude and estimates times the plane is supposed to be over certain cities, like Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

En route, as the plane passes over one point, he contacts the Civil Aeronautics Administration's radio facility at that point, giving the time he is over that city and giving an estimated time for the next city. CAA in turn passes this information, on business machine card, to the nearest defense sector, where it is stored in the computer until needed.

Say our mythical plane is due over Cleveland at a certain time. The radar at the 644th picks it up on its search radar perhaps 50 miles east of Cleveland. The radar site immediately relays the information to the computer at the defense sector. At Battle Creek the computer relays the information to a plotting board where it is displayed. In a matter of seconds the computer scans through the information it has stored and tries to identify the track. If it has the necessary information the track is identified as friendly, but if the computer cannot bring forth the necessary information the plane is identified as unknown and fighters are scrambled to intercept it.

The pilot in the fighter interceptor receives his information from the computer which tells him how fast, how high, and what course to take to intercept the unknown aircraft. Once the fighter intercepts and identifies the aircraft as our civilian plane, the fighters return to base.

As marvelous as the computer may be, Turner and Scott both admit that SAGE cannot stop a missile at present. "There is just nothing," Turner said, "that can stop a guided missile right now." But Scott quickly added: "We have things in the planning and developing stage that will protect against guided missiles. Perhaps

Cincy Boys Back in Public School

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lawrence Ashcraft's two sons have gone back to Columbian School, from which their father withdrew them because it is predominantly Negro.

The boys, Robert, 9, and Larry, 8, have been attending a parochial school recently but Wednesday their father took them back to the public school. He gave no explanation.

Only last week the Board of Education dropped charges of child neglect against Ashcraft, after the board learned the youngsters were being sent to the parochial school.

Ashcraft was arrested last March in the case.

Accused Murderer Pens Poetry during Hearing

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charles Ross, charged with beating a man to death, writes poetry at his murder trial.

His latest lines were titled "Not Guilty." The poem concludes with these words to the jury: "I'm certain you'll agree 'I've had enough upsets of late 'Without your trying to cremate 'A guy that's 'not guilty'."

You've seen the Air Force has already installed a huge ballistic missile early warning radar site at Thule in Greenland. This is just one of many such sites that are being installed.

Capt. Ralph Alley, commander of the 644th, believes someday very soon the 644th will be able to guard against missiles. "But you can be assured," Alley said, "if we don't have a defense against missiles, now, the Russians don't either."

Big Outpouring Of Dollars Seen During Holiday

Memorial Day Listed
As First of Three
3-Day Weekends

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The three-day Memorial Day weekend—the first of the three long summer holidays—will see a great outpouring of dollars as well as of gadding leisure lovers.

Whatever qualms some industries and stock market traders may have about the 1960 outlook, and whatever alarms on the international front may send shivers through some economic planners, the businessmen who cater to recreation activities of Americans say they are sitting pretty.

They look for record sales this year for one of the nation's fastest growing industries — leisure. And many business firms benefit by this strong trend in American life.

The National Safety Council, for example, believes, that at some time over the Memorial Day holiday almost every one of the nation's 71 million motor cars will be on the road.

This pleases not only the makers of autos, tires and batteries, but also the producers and sellers of oil and gasoline, who have been disturbed by their more than ample supplies.

Travel agents estimate that domestic gadding this year should see 18 billion dollars changing hands. Most of the actual movement will be in the family car.

A brokerage firm, Frances I. du Pont & Co., estimates that spending in the leisure and recreation field will set a high of 43 billion dollars this year, up two billion dollars from last year.

Some of the things it lists: sales in the fishing field 2½ billion dollars, swimming 1½ billion, hunting a billion, bowling a billion, golf 800 million.

Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp., a leader in financing of autos, pleasure boats, home improvements, swimming pools and mobile homes, take a look at activities that all the family enjoy.

It estimates consumers will spend 2½ billion dollars on recreational boating, a gain of 300 million dollars over last year; homeowners will put a billion dollars into swimming pools, 12 billion dollars on do-it-yourself items and garden supplies, and 3½ billion on TV sets, radios, phonographs, records and musical instruments.

Since installment financing—running at a record high of 40 billion

White Radar Dome on Green Hilltop Constantly Guards Ohio's Millions

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—Atop the highest point in Ohio, on a small green hill, sits a white radar dome which has the job of protecting millions of Ohioans from enemy air attack.

Passersby would look at the well-kept lawn and buildings blended neatly into the countryside and accept it as just another military base. But housed within the peaceful looking buildings is equipment that would make Buck Rogers or Flash Gordon envious.

And this equipment has the difficult task of defending highly industrialized Ohio from enemy bombers.

Gone are the days of the radar operator sitting behind a radar scope in a darkened room looking for aircraft that appear on his set. Gone are the days of the man standing behind the transparent plotting board drawing arrows which represent the planes the operators have found on their scopes.

Since September 1959 the 644th Radar Squadron just southeast of Bellefontaine in Logan County has been integrated into a fantastic new system called SAGE—Semi-Automatic Ground Environment plan. SAGE is a system which does everything by itself without very much help from man.

It does it faster, more accurately, and with greater capacity than the old radar operator once did. C. W. O. Vernon F. Scott, communications and electronics chief at the base, said: "Thank God we have it! I sleep much better at night knowing that the SAGE system is working for us."

Actually, with the new system the 644th only monitors the equipment. All aircraft signs picked up by the search radar, housed within the white radar dome, are within a fraction of a second relayed

to the Detroit Air Defense Sector at Battle Creek, Mich., where two large computers store the information until it is needed.

"You should see those computers, too," said Scott. "There are two of them. A main one and a back-up. And it is really funny because if one gives the wrong information the back-up will start flashing lights and ringing bells to let you know the main computer has made a mistake. Almost like two kids telling on each other."

The defense sector displays and acts upon all information sent to them by the radar site. The two computers do all the thinking mechanically and only need assistance from man to get things rolling. The Detroit sector has Ohio included in its area of responsibility.

Yet the job of the men at the 644th is an important one. The equipment needed to keep an automatic tracking system working is complicated and awesome in its size. Flashing lights, huge metal containers housing equipment necessary for the transmission of information, and row upon row of electronic equipment all add up to a 100 per cent effort by all to keep things running.

The radar at the 644th is responsible for searching and detecting all aircraft entering its area. And its area is great. Toledo, Akron, Youngstown, Columbus, Dayton, Steubenville, Cleveland and Lorain all are protected by the electronic net spread out by the search radar of the 644th.

To the 135 men of the squadron the work is almost routine. There is no publicity, no fanfare and applause that some of the other branches of the air force enjoy. Their job is one of continually looking and waiting for the time everyone hopes will never come. For it will not be until enemy planes are on the way that SAGE will ever be tested to find out just how good it is.

The men that work with SAGE have complete confidence in it and say that it is far superior when compared to the old manual system of radar operators and controllers who used to direct fighters to their assigned targets.

But just how good is the system? What if one plane, carrying one bomb tried to attack Youngstown or Columbus? Could it get through the net?

Some Prisoners Still Held

Infrequently is found a man dedicated to the completion of a task abandoned by others years of frustration and disappointment required to pursue an objective during seven years of frustration and disappointment is lacking in most men. But if it is the will to continue, more than any other factor, which guarantees success, Eugene Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., will succeed in a cause most worthy.

Guild is a retired Army captain of World War I who, along with thousands of other American parents, lost a son in Korea. At the end of the Korean War thousands of American fighting parents, lost a son in Korea. At the end of the Korean War thousands of American fighting men were unaccounted for — 4,735 to be exact. These casualties were listed under "findings of presumptive death," or missing but not accounted for. This list has been reduced to an arbitrary figure of 452 by the Defense and State Departments, and it is the latter number communist representatives are asked to account for at weekly meetings still being held in Korea and Poland.

Captain Guild is a leader in the "Fighting Home Foks of Fighting Men," an organization devoted to establishing the whereabouts of the missing 4,735. He and other parents who lost their sons, including Gen. James A. Van Fleet, have little hope that more than a handful of the missing men may be alive. But they will not accept the premise that all of these missing men are dead.

As substantiation of this belief, there are photographs of some of the missing men brought back by freed prisoners. The reds steadfastly deny any knowledge of them, but they also deny holding the 452 men named by American negotiators. Seven years after the enemy agreed to the return of all prisoners captured during the Korean fighting, many of these men still languish behind communist bars.

Perhaps to the communists, who apparently see no propaganda value in releasing imprisoned Americans, it makes no difference whether the number is 400 or 4,000. The more civilized mind of the West, however, doesn't abandon life so easily. The State and Defense Departments may have thought it more expeditious to the return of the prisoners to use the lower figure in their negotiations with the enemy, but it should be obvious now the communists haven't the slightest intention of voluntarily releasing one man.

Polite diplomacy has been restored to unsuccessfully for seven years. Much of the effect has been lost with the passage of time, but world opinion will be more sympathetic to the cause of justice with the realization that there are 4,735 — not 452 — Americans unaccounted for by the invaders of Korea.

Remarks To Irk a Secretary

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that business secretaries get tired of hearing:

"Oh, I don't have to worry about my secretary ever leaving me. She's wedded to her work."

"Take a letter, please, Miss Tiggly."

"Is it true the boss has bony knees, Eloise?"

"If you don't hurry back from your coffee break, you'll be late going to lunch."

"You know, for a girl your age, Miss Tiggly, your figure isn't half bad."

"I guess she really does deserve a raise, but now that she's joined the office pension plan do you think it's really necessary? She isn't likely to leave now."

"If my wife calls tell her I'm in an important conference and can't be disturbed."

"What is a pretty girl like you doing working in a great dismal swamp like this?"

"If you can get me in to see your boss in the next 15 minutes, there'll be a couple of tickets waiting for you tomorrow night at the box office of the best show in town."

"Are you going to spend all your life being a typewriter jockey? Why don't you wake up and live?"

"Hey, Eloise, the next time the boss is out of town how about letting me have a peek at my personnel file? I'd like to see what the old goat has on the record about me."

"I don't know how they taught you to spell 'accommodate' where you went to school, Miss Tiggly, but at Cornell I am sure we spelled it with only a single 'k'."

"Isn't it funny, Miss Tiggly, how everything seems to pile up on Friday night? I hope you didn't have anything special planned."

"You were good enough to work late last night and I insist on paying for your dinner. Will a dollar cover it?"

"I hate to ask you to do a five-page letter all over again, Miss Tiggly, but I've had a couple of after thoughts."

No, I wouldn't exactly say he was hard to work for. The 12 secretaries he had before you were probably just temperamental."

"I don't care what my husband said for you to tell me. You put him on the phone—and I'll tell him."

"You really think Miss Tiggly is attractive? That's odd. She's been with me 10 years and I never thought of her in that light."

Passports Easy To Get

In his 1950 report, J. Edgar Hoover said:

"I want to point out the increased volume of our espionage work. In 1947 we received 798 espionage matters. In 1948 we received 1,227, and in 1949, 1,939, while in 1950 we had 3,523."

In his 1959 report, Hoover said:

"Despite the Soviet Russian peace front the activities of the Communist-bloc intelligence services have continued down to the present time. Evaluation of investigative developments during the past year has shown that the current Red leadership has no intention of relaxing its efforts, and that the increasing pressure of foreign-directed espionage networks will continue indefinitely. Our investigative counter measures have also provided us with a means of estimating the degree of Soviet-satellite intelligence activities being conducted in the United States under the guise of diplomatic status."

In the same report, Hoover stated:

"As part of the Abel case, Hayhanen related to the FBI that one of his assignments was to deliver $5,000 to Helen Sobell, wife of Morton Sobell, convicted member of the Julius Rosenberg espionage network, as a reward for Sobell's silence. Sobell, it will be recalled, never confessed and extensive efforts have been made by the Communists in an effort to free him."

The task of the delivery of the money to Mrs. Sobell had been given originally to Abel who, through fear of exposure as a result of FBI coverage of Helen Sobell, buried the money in two necessarily be measured in terms of convictions secured or sentences imposed. Prosecutions are no measure of success in counterespionage and intelligence activities. Foreign intelligence personnel are often protected by diplomatic immunity and are quick to exploit our constitutional guarantees. Often, disclosure of their activities through public trial would compromise highly classified information."

For his 1960 appropriation, J. Edgar Hoover reported:

"Despite Soviet advocacy of an ostensible 'Peace Front,' there has been no letup in Red subversion. To the contrary, the Soviet Union's much heralded 'peaceful coexistence' campaign has opened the door for foreign-directed espionage on an accelerated scale."

"To the Soviets, this slogan is merely a tactical expedient clearly designed to expand international Communism's capabilities for espionage and subversion. Experience has taught the bitter truth that never should we be more alert than when Communist powers cloak their drive for world domination behind appeasement policies."

"Our investigations have clearly disclosed an overall expansion of Soviet bloc intelligence activities against the United States. There has been a predominantly widespread use of 'legal' agents operating under the guise of diplomatic status. There are indications, further, of a general tightening-up of the organizational structure of the Soviet intelligence apparatus. There can be little doubt that this increasing pressure of foreign-directed espionage activity will continue with added emphasis for an indefinite future period."

One of Soviet Russia's tricks in the espionage game is the use of fraudulent passports. Concerning this, Hoover said last year:

"Fraudulent passports have, traditionally, been standard equipment for spies and subversives. Though we have been confronted with this deception for many years, the problem today has become even more difficult."

"Top Party functionaries have stated that it will now be 'easy' for the party. What was meant, of course, was that the (Supreme Court) ruling will facilitate the travel of spies, couriers, and subversives. The next time a representative of the Communist Party is summoned to the Soviet Union, he will not even have to go to the trouble of using an alias."

"The Party has lost no time in capitalizing upon the ease with which passports may now be obtained. A steady stream of Party people, including such long-time functionaries as Alexander Trachtenberg, James Jackson, George Morris, and Victor J. Jerome, applied for and received passports for travel to the Soviet Union. Obviously individuals of this type are not going to Russia for vacation purposes."

These passports are sometimes used by unauthorized persons in other countries. They are also handed over to Russians, Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and other spies for use in neutral countries."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MOST UNCANNILY ACCURATE putter at the Rocky Gray Golf club was a character so myopic he couldn't read the top letter on an oculist's chart without a spyglass.

Asked the secret of his success on the green, he explained, "It's these bifocals I wear. When I get on the green, I see two balls, one big, one small, and two holes, one big, one small. After that it's simply a matter of dropping the small ball in the big hole."

A Parisian aristocrat who lived right next door to philosopher Voltaire and his wife overheard this notable exchange between the two one evening.

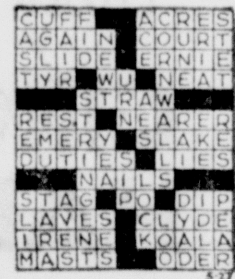

Mr. Voltaire: I disapprove of what you say, but will defend unto death your right to say it.

Mrs. Voltaire: A-a-a, shut up!

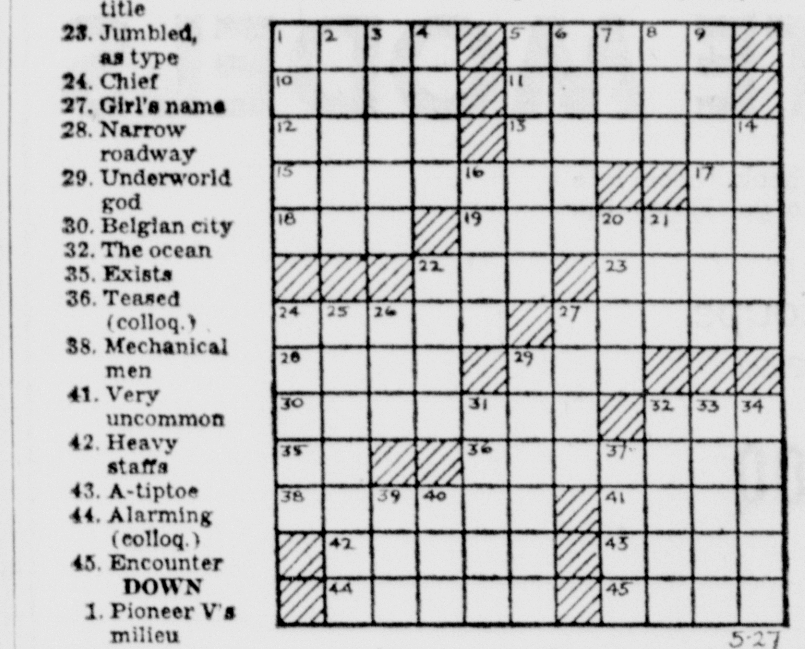

A showgirl acquaintance of Jan Murray's saw so many playboys' etchings she quit the chorus and became an art critic.

Brown's Poll Shows Adlai, Jack Ahead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, encouraged by his first poll-taking safari, plans walking tours in at least five more California cities to find the popular Democratic choice for president.

The Democratic governor said he found an apparent strong preference for Adlai G. Stevenson and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Stevenson ran strong downtown.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bewilderment, past and present. The American government didn't know what the Soviets were up to and doesn't know what they're up to now.

Pull the pieces together — before and after the summit disaster — and this is what it comes to:

The Eisenhower administration could only guess why Premier Nikita Khrushchev raised such a rumpus over the U2 American spy plane and it was shocked when he used that as a springboard to wreck the summit meeting.

One of the guesses was that Khrushchev was under pressure inside the Soviet Union. But there is, so far as this writer knows, not a shred of evidence to support such a theory.

Now Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is described as expecting "further spectacular action" by the Soviets but uncertain as to what direction it may take.

Behind closed doors Herter talked Thursday with the House Foreign Affairs Committee which was hardly being more than curious. Its chairman, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.), says it plans no formal investigation.

The formal investigation — into the plane incident and the summit crack-up — is being undertaken today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which, also behind closed doors, will question administration officials whose agencies had anything to do with the plane or the summit.

Morgan, after his house group had talked 2½ hours with Herter, issued a statement which he said Herter read and approved. It said: "The secretary indicated that the behavior of the Soviet leaders since Paris may be interpreted either as a desire to avoid bringing on a war crisis or as psychological in order to pull the wool over our eyes prior to some threatening act. He anticipates further spectacular action by the Russians in the months to come."

But Morgan said Herter didn't think the Soviets would make a warlike or definitely hostile move. So it adds up to this: The Soviets have the Eisenhower administration guessing.

Morgan said his own impression from Herter's analysis was that Khrushchev had been under strong pressure at home before the downed U2 plane gave him a golden chance for anti-American propaganda.

It was hardly news when Herter indicated there would be no more summit conferences during the almost eight months President Eisenhower still has in office.

This is how he put it: "Summitry as a means of accomplishing anything in world affairs has taken a very hard knock."

The prospect of ending his term without another summit meeting probably doesn't displease the President.

He didn't like summit conferences in the first place — preferring the older method of meetings between foreign ministers — and was talked into the one Khrushchev wrecked in order to avoid a showdown in Berlin.

Some Prisoners Still Held

Infrequently is found a man dedicated to the completion of a task abandoned by others years of frustration and disappointment required to pursue an objective during seven years of frustration and disappointment is lacking in most men. But if it is the will to continue, more than any other factor, which guarantees success, Eugene Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., will succeed in a cause most worthy.

Guild is a retired Army captain of World War I who, along with thousands of other American parents, lost a son in Korea. At the end of the Korean War thousands of American fighting parents, lost a son in Korea. At the end of the Korean War thousands of American fighting men were unaccounted for — 4,735 to be exact. These casualties were listed under "findings of presumptive death," or missing but not accounted for. This list has been reduced to an arbitrary figure of 452 by the Defense and State Departments, and it is the latter number communist representatives are asked to account for at weekly meetings still being held in Korea and Poland.

Captain Guild is a leader in the "Fighting Home Folks of Fighting Men," an organization devoted to establishing the whereabouts of the missing 4,735. He and other parents who lost their sons, including Gen. James A. Van Fleet, have little hope that more than a handful of the missing men may be alive. But they will not accept the premise that all of these missing men are dead.

As substantiation of this belief, there are photographs of some of the missing men brought back by freed prisoners. The reds steadfastly deny any knowledge of them, but they also deny holding the 452 men named by American negotiators. Seven years after the enemy agreed to the return of all prisoners captured during the Korean fighting, many of these men still languish behind communist bars.

Perhaps to the communists, who apparently see no propaganda value in releasing imprisoned Americans, it makes no difference whether the number is 400 or 4,000. The more civilized mind of the West, however, doesn't abandon life so easily. The State and Defense Departments may have thought it more expeditious to the return of the prisoners to use the lower figure in their negotiations with the enemy, but it should be obvious now the communists haven't the slightest intention of voluntarily releasing one man.

Polite diplomacy has been restored to unsuccessfully for seven years. Much of the effect has been lost with the passage of time, but world opinion will be more sympathetic to the cause of justice with the realization that there are 4,735 — not 452 — Americans unaccounted for by the invaders of Korea.

Remarks To Irk a Secretary

By Hal Boyie

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that business secretaries get tired of hearing:

"Oh, I don't have to worry about my secretary ever leaving me. She's wedded to her work."

"Take a letter, please, Miss Tiggly."

"Is it true the boss has bony knees, Eloise?"

"If you don't hurry back from your coffee break, you'll be late going to lunch."

"You know, for a girl your age, Miss Tiggly, your figure isn't half bad."

"I guess she really does deserve a raise, but now that she's joined the office pension plan do you think it's really necessary? She isn't likely to leave now."

"If my wife calls tell her I'm in an important conference and can't be disturbed."

"What is a pretty girl like you doing working in a great dismal swamp like this?"

"If you can get me in to see your boss in the next 15 minutes, there'll be a couple of tickets waiting for you tomorrow night at the box office of the best show in town."

"Are you going to spend all your life being a typewriter jockey? Why don't you wake up and live?"

"Hey, Eloise, the next time the boss is out of town how about letting me have a peek at my personnel file? I'd like to see what the old goat has on the record about me."

"I don't know how they taught you to spell 'accommodate' where you went to school, Miss Tiggly, but at Cornell I am sure we spelled it with only a single 'k'."

"Isn't it funny, Miss Tiggly, how everything seems to pile up on Friday night? I hope you didn't have anything special planned."

"You were good enough to work late last night and I insist on paying for your dinner. Will a dollar cover it?"

"I hate to ask you to do a five-page letter all over again, Miss Tiggly, but I've had a couple of after thoughts."

No, I wouldn't exactly say he was hard to work for. The 12 secretaries he had before you were probably just temperamental."

"I don't care what my husband said for you to tell me. You put him on the phone—and I'll tell him."

"You really think Miss Tiggly is attractive? That's odd. She's been with me 10 years and I never thought of her in that light."

Passports Easy To Get

By George Sokolsky

In his 1950 report, J. Edgar Hoover said:

"I want to point out the increased volume of our espionage work."

"In 1947 we received 798 espionage matters. In 1948 we received 1,227, and in 1949, 1,939, while in 1950 we had 3,323."

"In his 1953 report, Hoover said: 'Despite the Soviet Russian peace front the activities of the Communist-bloc intelligence services have continued down to the present time. Evaluation of investigative developments during the past year has shown that the current Red leadership has no intention of relaxing its efforts, and that the increasing pressure of foreign-directed espionage networks will continue indefinitely. Our investigative counter measures have also provided us with a means of estimating the degree of Soviet-satellite intelligence activities being conducted in the United States under the guise of diplomatic status.'"

In the same report, Hoover stated:

"As part of the Abel case, Hay-banen related to the FBI that one of his assignments was to deliver $5,000 to Helen Sobell, wife of Morton Sobell, convicted member of the Julius Rosenberg espionage network, as a reward for Sobell's silence. Sobell, it will be recalled, never confessed and extensive efforts have been made by the Communists in an effort to free him."

"The task of the delivery of the money to Mrs. Sobell had been given originally to Abel who, through fear of exposure as a result of FBI coverage of Helen Sobell, buried the money in two caches in Bear Mountain State Park in New York. Subsequently, on instructions from Abel, Hay-banen dug up the money for delivery to Helen Sobell. However, he did not make this delivery but instead appropriated the funds for his own use..."

Hoover also said in this report:

"Because of the nature of our counterespionage and intelligence work, its effectiveness cannot necessarily be measured in terms of convictions secured or sentences imposed. Prosecutions are no measure of success in counterespionage and intelligence activities. Foreign intelligence personnel are often protected by diplomatic immunity and are quick to exploit our constitutional guarantees. Often, disclosure of their activities through public trial would compromise highly classified information..."

For his 1960 appropriation, J. Edgar Hoover reported:

"Despite Soviet advocacy of an ostensible 'Peace Front,' there has been no letup in Red subversion. To the contrary, the Soviet Union's much heralded 'peaceful coexistence' campaign has opened the door for foreign-directed espionage on an accelerated scale."

"To the Soviets, this slogan is merely a tactical expedient clearly designed to expand international Communism's capabilities for espionage and subversion. Experience has taught the bitter truth that never should we be more alert than when Communist powers cloak their drive for world domination behind appeasement policies."

"Our investigations have clearly disclosed an overall expansion of Soviet bloc intelligence activities against the United States. There has been a predominantly widespread use of 'legal' agents operating under the guise of diplomatic status. There are indications, further, of a general tightening-up of the organizational structure of the Soviet intelligence apparatus. There can be little doubt that this increasing pressure of foreign-directed espionage activity will continue with added emphasis for an indefinite future period."

One of Soviet Russia's tricks in the espionage game is the use of fraudulent passports. Concerning this, Hoover said last year:

"Fraudulent passports have, traditionally, been standard equipment for spies and subversives. Though we have been confronted with this deception for many years, the problem today has become even more difficult."

"Top Party functionaries have stated that it will now be 'easy' for the party. What was meant, of course, was that the Supreme Court ruling will facilitate the travel of spies, couriers, and subversives. The next time a representative of the Communist Party is summoned to the Soviet Union, he will not even have to go to the trouble of using an alias."

"The Party has lost no time in capitalizing upon the ease with which passports may now be obtained. A steady stream of Party people, including such long-time functionaries as Alexander Trachtenberg, James Jackson, George Morris, and Victor J. Jerome, applied for and received passports for travel to the Soviet Union. Obviously individuals of this type are not going to Russia for vacation purposes."

These passports are sometimes used by unauthorized persons in other countries. They are also handed over to Russians, Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and other spies for use in neutral countries."

Endwell Union Company's $500,000,000 SEARCH FOR RARE COINS

MOST UNCANNILY ACCURATE putter at the Rocky Gray Golf club was a character so myopic he couldn't read the top letter on an oculist's chart without a spyglass.

Asked the secret of his success on the green, he explained, "It's these bifocals I wear. When I get on the green, I see two balls, one big, one small, and two holes, one big, one small. After that it's simply a matter of dropping the small ball in the big hole."

A Parisian aristocrat who lived right next door to philosopher Voltaire and his wife overheard this notable exchange between the two one evening:

Mrs. Voltaire: I disapprove of what you say, but will defend unto death your right to say it.

Mrs. Voltaire: A-a-aw, shut up!

A showgirl acquaintance of Jan Murray's saw so many playboys' etchings she quit the chorus and became an art critic.

GE Lamp Plant Has Family Day

Local Industry Conducts Tours

The local General Electric Lamp Plant Wednesday hosted 1,502 employees and members of their families during "Family Day", according to Edward G. Grigg, plant manager.

All guests were taken through the plant on guided tours. Hostesses and guide duties were covered by office and plant employees. Visiting day lasted from 1 until 8 p. m.

Supervisors explained the points of interest in the plant's operation. Plant officials said many favorable comments were received on the first family day activities in four years.

They said they were more than happy to afford employees' families the opportunity to visit the plant.

FOLLOWING the tour, employees and family guests were greeted in the plant conference room by Grigg. There were favors and refreshments.

Displays were set up in the cafeteria for the visitors to examine and enjoy.

Serving as hostesses were Mary K. Shoemaker, Jeannie Gilmore, Marlene Thompson, Sue White, Nancy Morgan, Betty Radcliff, Louise Lambert, Beverly Rhoades, Clare Littler, Betty Dowler, Marlene Shellhammer, Barbara Armstrong and Margaret Maxson.

Guides were Doris Inbody, Esther Lovett, Glenna Dewey, Anne Routt, Maxine Anderson, Frances Strausbaugh, Marge Smith, Mary Stephens, Frances Dinkler, Betty Shaeffer, Catherine Andrews, Mae Huber.

Gladys Stover, Marvonne Wilson, Carol Cupp, Katie Brown, Florence Hoffman, Betty Morrison, Loretta Seyfang, Maxine Kuhn, Minnie Bogard, Kathy Allen, Norma J. Purdue, Barbara Martin, Shirley Holland, JoAnn Bell, Mary Myers.

The plant nurses, Mrs. Elizabeth Lumpe and Mrs. Ditha Dixon, explained the dispensary operation.

16 Are Arrested In Cincy Dope Raid

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three months of investigation resulted in the arrest here Wednesday of 11 men and 5 women described by police as known users of narcotics or associates of known users.

Police said a check of drug store records produced names of persons who have been buying paregoric steadily, some of them as much as eight ounces a day. Purchasers of paregoric must give their names and addresses.

Lt. Carl Lind of the police vice squad said addicts boil the paregoric down to get the opium base. He said addicts are using that because they can't get heroin.

American Woman Relates How Plane Is Forced Down

Editor's Note — Barbara McCash, 24, of Atlanta, Ga., was aboard a U.S. Air Force plane flying from Copenhagen to Hamburg last Friday. It strayed over East Germany, and Soviet fighter planes forced it down. Back in West Germany today, Mrs. McCash, wife of an Air Force doctor, told her story to The Associated Press.

By BARBARA MCCASH

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—I don't think I ever got really panicky—things happened so fast.

We felt a bump and at first I thought something was wrong with the plane. Then I could see the planes—I didn't recognize the emblem. I could see the star but I don't remember what color they were.

I asked Mack (her husband, Capt. Paul McCash) what they were and he said he didn't know for sure. He told me to strap myself in my seat. I was looking out of the window and these planes were zooming all around us. Then we heard the firing from the planes.

One of the pilots stuck his head out of the cockpit and said: "We're going to land."

I didn't know where they could find a place to land because I could see houses and trees but they found a green field. It was a little bit hilly but they made a good landing. We bounced about two or three times and came to a very quick stop. Mack had put both arms around me and I was about to squeeze his leg off bracing myself.

Everybody said "Get out of the plane as fast as possible." They didn't have time to put a ladder down. I'm usually a rather slow-moving person but I practically flew out of that plane. We ran over to the road. There was another field on the other side with much taller grass and we could have hidden there if the MIGs had tried to fire on us. We stood at the road and everybody said "Wait, somebody is sure to come."

After about five minutes, East German police came, some on a truck and some on motorcycles.

They informed us we were in East Germany and requested that we put our identification cards out. While they were going around searching the men I told Mack I would slap their faces if they did this to me. Mack said "You won't either. Just stand there and wait." Mack then thanked them for not searching me.

They asked for the pilot and took Lundy (Capt. James Lundy) away. A few minutes later they took us in a truck to Grevesmuhlen. Boy, was that a bumpy ride. They had told us not to speak to each other. There were one uniformed Russian guard and two men in civilian clothes, Germans.

I think I was more scared during this 25-minute truck ride than during any other time because we had a long time to think about what was going to happen to us.

Then we were taken into the Soviet headquarters. There were not many Russians to receive us.

The tension was very evident. One fellow was stomping his feet. One time a window slammed and we all just about went through the ceiling.

After a few hours they brought coffee, fish with a jelly coating, white bread, meat loaf, hard-boiled eggs and a ham salad.

We didn't eat very much. Our stomachs were tied in knots.

Most of the time our food was brought in from a restaurant around the corner. One waiter was anxious to please us. He would run across the room to light our cigarettes. It was getting almost to be a game to see which cigarette would be lit first.

In the afternoon they questioned my husband. I didn't know where they had taken him and I was worried when he didn't come back right away and the other men did.

A German schoolteacher came in to interpret for us. He spoke English and was very friendly.

There was more questioning of the pilot and we just wore out the floor pacing. They allowed us to go out in the back yard and the fellows asked for a ball to play volleyball.

The next few days we spent walking in the yard and the men played volleyball, some times with the Russians. Our side won most of the time. The fellows also played blackjack.

The Russians were always very friendly and tried very hard to be helpful. I got the impression that they were very concerned that we could say we were treated well. They brought us German and Russian brandy and cigarettes. They always pointed out which was made in Germany and which in Russia.

Leaders of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said they expect other Negro students who sought admission to Central, Hall or still-white Technical High to ask for reassignment under state pupil placement laws.

The board used the federal court-approved placement laws, which do not mention race in making the selections.

Presbyterians Back Protests From Negroes

CLEVELAND (AP)—In the face of voiced opposition from southern ministers, delegates attending the 172nd General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in U.S.A. have endorsed the recent sit-in demonstrations of Negro students.

The endorsement, expressed as commendation of civil disobedience to violations of the laws of God, was part of the report of the Committee on Social Education and Action. The report was accepted after spirited attempts to soften the committee's statements on race relations.

Speaking against the endorsement, the Rev. Alexander M. Warren of Lexington, Ky., said: "The more of this kind of action you plan for our section of the country, the less chance there will be for consummating union with the Southern Presbyterian Church."

The Rev. Albert F. Hill of Elizabeth, N. J., answered: "This church cannot be bought by either the promise of more money or more members."

His comments about "more money" apparently referred to a remark made several weeks ago by a churchman that some members are withholding church contributions because the General Assembly pronounced on other than religious issues.

Another motion that lost came from the Rev. Frank R. Elder of Cincinnati, who moved to delete a section of the report urging members of the church to look for and patronize public places that do not discriminate along racial lines.

"I don't believe the Presbyterian Church wants to put itself on record in favor of a boycott, for that is what it would be no matter what you call it," he said.

Views on Television-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV — Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Indian is on a warpath, and his goal is television's scalp. For that matter, he'll be after mine, too, if I write more sentences like that.

It illustrates the misleading, trite approach that Indians dislike. Now a committee of the Assn. of American Indian Affairs has started a drive to force a change in false portrayals of Indians on TV and in the movies. They protest the portrayal of American Indians as "bloodthirsty savage killers."

The Indians really are up in arms about what they consider a libeling of their ancestors. Delegates of 11 tribes met recently in Oklahoma to organize a protest—and plan a petition to submit to President Eisenhower.

In addition, members of the Assn. on American Indian Affairs are planning to monitor TV westerns — noting offensive as well as accurate portrayals of the Indian.

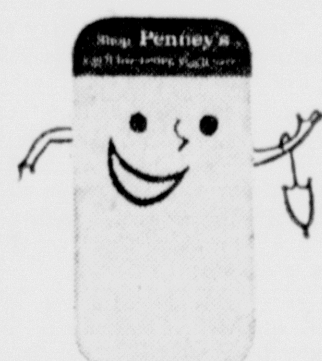

In announcing its drive, the association carefully exempted two TV shows, from their blanket condemnation of the Western. They were "The Lone Ranger" and "Lawman."

Goodness knows what the manufacturers of Westerns will do without the painted, befeathered Indian for villains and for excuses

Euclid School Banquet Leaves 300 Seniors Ill

CLEVELAND (AP)—County health authorities will analyze samples of food eaten by 600 Euclid High School seniors at their banquet in an effort to find out what made half of the seniors sick. Some 300 were sent home Thursday suffering from an intestinal disturbance.

They had attended a banquet Wednesday night at a restaurant connected with a motor hotel in Euclid. Fifteen of the 50 teachers at the banquet also complained of not feeling well, but they continued to hold class.

GE Lamp Plant Has Family Day

Local Industry Conducts Tours

The local General Electric Lamp Plant Wednesday hosted 1,502 employees and members of their families during "Family Day", according to Edward G. Grigg, plant manager.

All guests were taken through the plant on guided tours. Hostesses and guide duties were covered by office and plant employees. Visiting day lasted from 1 until 8 p. m.

Supervisors explained the points of interest in the plant's operation. Plant officials said many favorable comments were received on the first family day activities in four years.

They said they were more than happy to afford employees' families the opportunity to visit the plant.

Displays were set up in the cafeteria for the visitors to examine and enjoy.

Serving as hostesses were Mary K. Shoemaker, Jeannie Gilmore, Marlene Thompson, Sue White, Nancy Morgan, Betty Radcliff, Louise Lambert, Beverly Rhoades, Clare Littler, Betty Dowler, Marlene Shellhammer, Barbara Armtrout and Margaret Maxson.

Guides were Doris Inbody, Esther Lovett, Glenna Dewey, Anne Routh, Maxine Anderson, Frances Strausbaugh, Marge Smith, Mary Stephens, Frances Dinkler, Betty Shaeffer, Catherine Andrews, Mae Huber.

Idabelle Williams, Edith Pugh, Joanne Compher, Irene Whitcraft, Mary Winn, Carolyn Bowman, Nancy Salyers, Pat Hurley, Helen Smith, Chris Stump, Betty Karr, Oda McFee, Vivian McCain, Addie Martin, Nora Happenny, Leona Thomas, Dorothy Thompson, Gladys Adams and Rozella Schwalbaugh.

The plant nurses, Mrs. Elizabeth Lumpe and Mrs. Dortha Dixon, explained the dispensary operation.

16 Are Arrested In Cincy Dope Raid

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three months of investigation resulted in the arrest here Wednesday of 11 men and 5 women described by police as known users of narcotics or associates of known users.

Police said a check of drug store records produced names of persons who have been buying paregoric steadily, some of them as much as eight ounces a day. Purchasers of paregoric must give their names and addresses.

Lt. Carl Lind of the police vice squad said addicts boil the paregoric down to get the opium base. He said addicts are using that because they can't get heroin.

American Woman Relates How Plane Is Forced Down

Editor's Note — Barbara McCash, 24, of Atlanta, Ga., was aboard a U.S. Air Force plane flying from Copenhagen to Hamburg last Friday. It strayed over East Germany, and Soviet fighter planes forced it down. Back in West Germany today, Mrs. McCash, wife of an Air Force doctor, told her story to The Associated Press.

By BARBARA MCCASH WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—I don't think I ever got really panicky—things happened so fast. We felt a bump and at first I thought something was wrong with the plane. Then I could see the planes—I didn't recognize the emblem. I could see the star but I don't remember what color they were.

I asked Mack (her husband, Capt. Paul McCash) what they were and he said he didn't know for sure. He told me to strap myself in my seat. I was looking out of the window and these planes were zooming all around us. Then we heard the firing from the planes.

One of the pilots stuck his head out of the cockpit and said: "We're going to land."

I didn't know where they could find a place to land because I could see houses and trees but they found a green field. It was a little bit hilly but they made a good landing. We bounced about two or three times and came to a very quick stop. Mack had put both arms around me and I was about to squeeze his leg off bracing myself.

Everybody said "Get out of the plane as fast as possible." They didn't have time to put a ladder down. I'm usually a rather slow-moving person but I practically flew out of that plane. We ran over to the road. There was another field on the other side with much taller grass and we could have hidden there if the MIGs had tried to fire on us. We stood at the road and everybody said "Wait, somebody is sure to come."

After about five minutes, East German police came, some on a truck and some on motorcycles. They informed us we were in East Germany and requested that we put our identification cards out. While they were going around searching the men I told Mack I would slap their faces if they did this to me. Mack said "You won't either. Just stand there and wait." Mack then thanked them for not searching me.

They asked for the pilot and took Lundy (Capt. James Lundy) away. A few minutes later they took us in a truck to Grevesmuehlen. Boy, was that a bumpy ride. They had told us not to speak to each other. There were one uniformed Russian guard and two men in civilian clothes, Germans.

I think I was more scared during this 25-minute truck ride than during any other time because we had a long time to think about what was going to happen to us.

Then we were taken into the Soviet headquarters. There were not many Russians to receive us. The tension was very evident. One fellow was stomping his feet. One time a window slammed and we all just about went through the ceiling.

After a few hours they brought coffee, fish with a jelly coating, white bread, meat loaf, hard-boiled eggs and a ham salad.

We didn't eat very much. Our stomachs were tied in knots. Most of the time our food was brought in from a restaurant around the corner. One waiter was anxious to please us. He would run across the room to light our cigarettes. It was getting almost to be a game to see which cigarette would be lit first.

In the afternoon they questioned my husband. I didn't know where they had taken him and I was worried when he didn't come back right away and the other men did. A German schoolteacher came in to interpret for us. He spoke English and was very friendly.

There was more questioning of the pilot and we just wore out the floor pacing. They allowed us to go out in the back yard and the fellows asked for a ball to play volleyball.

Views on Television-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV — Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Indian is on a warpath, and his goal is television's scalp. For that matter, he'll be after mine, too, if I write more sentences like that.

It illustrates the misleading, trite approach that Indians dislike. Now a committee of the Assn. of American Indian Affairs has started a drive to force a change in false portrayals of Indians on TV and in the movies. They protest the portrayal of American Indians as "bloodthirsty savage killers."

The Indians really are up in arms about what they consider a libeling of their ancestors. Delegates of 11 tribes met recently in Oklahoma to organize a protest—plan a petition to submit to President Eisenhower.

In addition, members of the Assn. on American Indian Affairs are planning to monitor TV westerns — noting offensive as well as accurate portrayals of the Indian.

In announcing its drive, the association carefully exempted two TV shows, from their blanket condemnation of the Western. They were "The Lone Ranger" and "Lawman."

Goodness knows what the manufacturers of Westerns will do without the painted, befeathered Indian for villains and for excuses

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Ignore Your Crooked Shadow

DEAR ABBY: After an 8-year friendship with another couple, my husband and my best friend confessed they have been "in love" for five years. They asked for divorces so they could marry. (We have 3 children and they have 2). There was nothing we could do but give them their freedom. They married February 14th, the day their divorces became final.

The jilted husband has been coming to see me and has been taking me out. I am so lonely and so is he and we have a lot in common. I think I could care for him and he says he wants to marry me. He'd make a good husband, and my children need a full-time father. I'd like to marry him, but my parents are against it. They say people will say it was one of those "husband swapping deals" that was cooked up a long time ago. Please help me do the right thing, Abby. I don't want to ruin my reputation.

VICTIM OF GOSSIP
DEAR VICTIM: If you have walked straight—don't worry if your shadow is crooked. You are both free agents now. What your heart tells you is more important than what "people will say."

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a friend of mine. When he gets mad or excited he literally pulls the hair out of his head one by one. He has little bald patches already from this ridiculous practice. He has me worried sick. I think he is heading for a nervous breakdown. What can I do to help him?

HAIR PULLER'S FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: Pulling the hair out of one's head is a fit of temper or excitement is hardly normal behavior. You can't help him unless you are a psychiatrist. I suspect that is what your friend needs.

DEAR ABBY: My husband never talks to me any more. The minute he gets in the house he turns on the radio. But when we have company he can talk all evening (to them).

When we go anywhere in the car he can't turn the radio on fast enough, and he doesn't turn it off until we get where we're going.

What do you advise me to do in a situation like that? He's a good husband and father and we've been married almost 15 years, but I'd like to have just one good conversation with him before I die.

NO CONVERSATION
DEAR NO CONVERSATION: Talk to him! Ask him questions about his work, relatives, taxes, sports, politics and the front page news. Maybe he has quit talking to you because he feels you aren't interested in what he has to say. Practice being a good audience and he'll perform.

DEAR ABBY: We girls would like you to help us settle a discussion we have been having. What, in your opinion, is the most attractive age for a woman?

THE COFFEE BREAKERS
DEAR COFFEE BREAKERS: I would say 39. The proof is that millions of women, by their own choice, remain 39 for years.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Club Officers Nominated at Wednesday Meet

The Past Chiefs Club of Majors Temple 516 held its Mother Daughter Banquet at 6:30 p. m., Wednesday in the K of P Hall.

Mrs. Irwin Reed gave the invocation followed by Mrs. Ronald Nau, who was in charge of the program. A welcome to the members and daughters was given by Mrs. Roy Groce. The response was given to the Mothers by Mrs. Orville Jacobs Jr., Columbus, then each Mother introduced her daughter.

Mrs. Harry Styers gave a reading "The Hand That Rocked the Cradle." Miss Margie Carmean and Mrs. Loring E. Evans sang "My Cathedral," with Miss Carmean as accompanist.

Games were played followed with Mrs. Clarence Radcliff reciting a poem. Miss Ethel Stein gave a reading "Just That Age."

The meeting was brought to a close by the group singing, "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

The tables were decorated with yellow and blue candles and crepe paper. Yellow and blue baskets filled with candy, was arranged like a flower. A rose bud was placed at each daughter's place. Mrs. Carmean and Miss Clarissa Talbot were in charge of decorations. Thirty-two members and guests were present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Nellie Bolender.

GOP Boosters Talk On U. N.

GOP Boosters held its meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Wayne Stonerock, 1250 S. Pickaway St., assisted by Mrs. Marion I. Smith.

The Pledge of Allegiance led by Mrs. Harry Styers, opened the meeting followed by singing of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Lucille Dumm conducted the business hour and spoke on the U. N. "What It Means To Us." She also gave an article on Vice-President, Richard M. Nixon.

A reading "Work Together" was given by Mrs. H. E. Valentine. "The Great Crusade" by Mrs. Charles W. Winner and "The American Way" by Miss Dumm. Singing of "America The Beautiful" concluded the program.

The hostesses served lunch at a table decorated for Memorial Day. Games followed, with prizes going to Mrs. Stonerock, Miss Dumm and Mrs. Winner. Miss Dumm also received the door prize.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Steinhauser, Williamsport.

Story-Book Plot Comes True For 15-Year-Old Actress

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Story-book plots still come true, here in America.

The heroine of our latest true-life fairy tale is 15-year-old Brigid Bazlen of Chicago, who two weeks ago was a typical high school sophomore, boning up for final exams.

Today Brigid is en route to Madrid, to play the exotic role of Salome, complete with the dance of the seven veils, in the new movie production of "King of Kings," now being filmed in Spain.

Dressed in proper schoolgirl blue serge, accompanied by her longtime chaperone, Miss Margot Richter, a friend of her mother, Brigid paused briefly in New York between planes, faced photographers, press agents and reporters, blinked her wide blue Irish eyes and said:

"I really don't know how it all happened, but I'm going to do my best."

Brigid is the daughter of Maggie Daly, Chicago TV commentator and lecturer. The family moved to Chicago from Fond Du Lac Wis., with her late father when Brigid was kindergarten age. She attended parochial schools and was a sophomore at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel in Chicago when her fairy godmother appeared with her magic wand. Samuel Bronston, producer of the new version of "King of Kings," decided he wanted an American teenager to play the role of "Salome," previously portrayed by Rita Hayworth.

"Two weeks ago we got a wire saying I was to take the first plane for New York," says Brigid. "I was sitting in this office for about an hour, and I was telling about how I had done some children's parts in television shows, and then a man came out and said, 'Have you got a passport?' Then he got one right away, with a visa for Spain."

Treasures in Heaven

THE POLY OF MAKING MATERIAL POSSESSIONS
THE CHIEF INTEREST IN LIFE

Scripture—Matthew 6:19-34; Luke 12:13-34.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

I AM introducing this lesson by quoting from the Rev. Wilbur M. Smith's Peloubet's Notes. He writes: "One of the great basic factors of our Lord's teaching is that He talks about the problems of ordinary life, and in doing so, He frankly and constantly faces the realities of daily life, the need for making a living, our relationship to money and property and to others with whom we live and work. He talks about food, drink, labor, wages, marriage as well as the glorious themes of God, salvation and eternity. In the verses assigned to our lesson, we see something of our Lord's teaching about our relationship to earthly possessions, and His warnings regarding the danger and tragic consequences of putting primal emphasis upon the things of this earth."

Jesus said: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal."—Matthew 6:19.

these things. And at once the great question then is, "How can I use these things to the glory of God? . . . It is to Him I will have to render an account of my stewardship of all the things with which He has blessed me."

We cannot send bags of gold to heaven, for heaven does not need them, but we need to hoard our wealth (if we have accumulated it by hard work, as millions of people all over the world have done and are doing today). We can help good and worthy causes, or friends and relatives who are needy.

Jesus Christ said: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon (money)."—Matthew 6:24.

"Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?"—

GOLDEN TEXT

"Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."—Matthew 6:20-21.

Don't we sometimes read in our newspapers of men or women who hoard money in their homes, and thieves do break in and steal?

What was Christ's teaching on this subject? "But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."—Matthew 6:19-21.

"Christ does not say it is wrong to lay up. The common capacity to which He is here appealing is that of the passion for possession," writes G. Campbell Morgan, in Peloubet's Select Notes.

"The worldly man thinks he himself holds these things; but the Christian starts by saying, 'I am not the possessor of these things. I merely have them on lease and they do not really belong to me. I cannot take my wealth with me. I cannot take my gifts with me. In a sense all these things are given to me, but I am a custodian of them.'"

Armenia Avenger Dies in Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An
Armenian who avenged the World War I massacre of 600,000 of his countrymen by assassinating the former prime minister of Turkey in 1921, died Monday at University of California Hospital.

Saro Melikian, 64, born Soghomon Telihran in Turkish Armenia, will be given final rites
Saturday afternoon in Fresno by hundreds of his countrymen from all over the world.

Melikian fought as an Armenian volunteer with the Russians in 1914 and vowed revenge against Talaat Pasha for the slaughter and deportation of his people. He caught up with the ex-prime minister on a Berlin street in 1921 and killed him with one revolver shot.

representatives of 150 workers who walked off their jobs at the company's plant in Berea Thursday.
A spokesman for the workers, who are unorganized, said they are asking a 10-cent hourly wage increase and double time for Sunday and holiday work. The seasonal workers now are paid $1.15 to $1.40 per hour.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03
miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique.
But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Careful TV Tuner Can Find Something New on Program

NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come to start being careful about one's television viewing habits: A lot of reruns and repeats are beginning to sneak into the network schedules. There remains however, quite an assortment of new material during the next seven days.

Tonight, for instance, there is NBC's "March of Medicine" (8:30-9:30 Eastern Daylight Time) based on the work of five American physicians. On CBS, with a conflict, there is "Thrills of the 1960 Circus" (9-10) which consists of 13 acts from the big top. And from 10 to its conclusion on NBC there is the Don Jordan-Benny (Kid) Paret championship fight.

Saturday night on "Perry Mason," (CBS, 7:30-8:30) there is "The Case of the Irate Inventor," in which William Talman, playing the district attorney, appears for the first time in months. And NBC's World Wide 60 (9:30-10:30) takes a look at "The American Fighting Man."

NBC's new mystery series, taking over Dinah Shore's spot for the summer, premieres Sunday evening (9-10) with "The Machine Calls It Murder." "Small World," (CBS, 6-6:30) considers disarmament with opinions by Lewis L. Strauss, former head of the Atomic Energy Commission, and physicist Leo Szilard.

Nanette Fabray stars in a musical drama on NBC Tuesday night (8:30-9:30). And on Wednesday, ABC's weekly musical show changes its seasonal name to "Music for a Summer Night" (7:30-8:30). Betsy Palmer stars in Steel Hour's "Game of Hearts," on CBS (10-11). NBC puts on its second ice show in five days with "Summer on Ice," starring Craig (Peter Gunn) Stevens, Gisele MacKenzie and Tab Hunter on Thursday. There's also a Sid Caesar special—"Variety, World of Show Biz" — on CBS, (10-11).

Ohio Water Firm Told To Provide Data

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Water Service Co. must file a schedule of proposed rates for Washington Court House and other data within 30 days or the Utilities Commission will dismiss the firm's application for a rate-fixing order.

A dismissal motion was made April 22 by Asst. Atty. Gen. Ancounsel. He said the company failed to file information required by law. In a 2-1 vote Thursday, the commission decided to grant Sarisky's motion if the data is not provided in 30 days. The action ended a month's deliberation. Chairman Edward J. Keneally and Commissioner Frances McGovern favored the proposal. Commissioner Everett H. Krueger Jr. opposed it, saying the ruling "is not substantiated by law."

Ohio Water Service Co. wants a rate increase and has asked the commission to determine a fair rate of return. Sarisky contends the firm must file the proposed rate schedule and a statement of anticipated income from the proposed rates.

Whitey Ford Boots Orioles Out of First Place Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They can be the league-leading Baltimore Orioles or a bunch of second division birds, either way they're dead ducks against Whitey Ford.

The stubby southpaw, bothered by elbow trouble and home run balls, looked as good as ever Thursday night, pitching a three-hitter as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 2-0 and eased the Orioles out of the American League lead.

The loss ended the Birds' winning streak at four and dropped them to second place, .012 percentage points behind idle Cleveland. It's the first time the Indians, with an 18-12 record to Baltimore's 20-14, have been alone in first place this season.

Chicago's third place White Sox moved within a half-game of the lead, ending their slump at four games with a 3-1 victory at Kansas City. Washington defeated Boston 5-2 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Mile Runners Set for Duel

Elliot, Burleson Pitted in California

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Headed by the heralded mile duel between Australia's champion Herb Elliott and Oregon collegian Dyrrol Burleson, the 19th California Relays Saturday night boasts its strongest field.

Included are sprinter Ray Norton, current world's fastest human, 400-meter hurdles record holder Glenn Davis, shot putters Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder and Abilene Christian sprint relay team.

The 100-yard dash matches Norton, ex-San Jose star and co-holder of the world record at 9.3 seconds and Doug Smith, the big surprise from Occidental who beat Ray two weeks ago in the West Coast Relays at 9.4.

O'Brien filed a late entry Thursday to compete against Nieder. O'Brien, the Olympic champion, holds the official world record at 63 feet 4 inches but Nieder smashed the mark with a throw of 65.7 that awaits official recognition.

With Norton and Smith in the 100-yard field is Oregon's Roscoe Cook who won the event in a surprise here last year equalling the world record.

The top interest centers on the mile run matching Elliott, the Aussie with the world record at 3:54.5, and Burleson, the 20-year-old sophomore who last April 23 ran a 3:58.6, breaking the American citizen's record in becoming the second U.S. runner to go under four minutes.

Elliott, despite a sore knee, predicts he'll run under four minutes here, but the collegian has plenty of support among track experts.

Hurricane New SCO Baseball Loop Champs

A single run in the bottom of the ninth inning gave Wilmington a 4-3 victory over Greenfield and undisputed possession of the South Central Ohio League baseball crown this week.

Wilmington finished its league play with a 10-2 mark. The closest competitor was Franklin Heights which ended 7-3. Circleville was 4-5 in the loop.

The champion Hurricane rocked Greenfield in the second extra inning when Harold Mitchell sent a long double to right. Jim Kidd sacrificed him to third and Mike Ewing brought him home with another perfect bunt which rolled between the mound and first base.

Ron Claborn and Marv Gregory combined to handle Hurricane hurling duties, with the win going to Gregory.

GENE Garrison worked for Greenfield until he was relieved in the ninth by Pete Coleman. Garrison was tabbed with the loss.

Circleville the defending league champion lost both its games to Wilmington this season, 4-1 in the first test and 5-4 in the second. Washington C. H. administered both Hurricane defeats.

double by Brooks Robinson and a third-inning single by losing pitcher Skinny Brown, then didn't allow another hit until rookie Ron Hansen tripled with two out in the ninth.

The Yankees beat Brown in the first inning on Tony Kubek's lead-off single, a walk and Bob Cerv's two-out single. Singles by Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson got the other run home in the seventh.

Dick Brown's two-run homer and an RBI triple by Minnie Minoso gave the White Sox their runs in the first three innings against Dick Hall (4-1). Gerry Staley who came in with the bases loaded and one out in the seventh and got pinch-hitter Hank Bauer on a doubleplay ball, saved the victory for Bob Shaw (4-3), who gave up four of the A's five hits.

Pete Ramos won his second in a row with a five-hitter for the Senators, after losing his first five. A two-run single by Julio Becquer capped a winning three-run fifth against Jerry Casale (2-3).

Joe Adcock's at it again and Milwaukee's so-so Braves have come alive, winning four of their last five.

The big first baseman, bothered by platooning and a bad back, has driven in seven of Milwaukee's 17 runs in that spurt while upping his batting average to .352. He was 2-for-4 and rapped across a run as the Braves scored a clinching three in the second inning Thursday night for a 4-1 victory at St. Louis.

San Francisco padded its first place lead to 1½ games over idle Pittsburgh, flattened the Phillies again with a 9-0 victory on Jack Sanford's four-hit pitching and a trio of homers. No other games were scheduled in the NL.

Adcock and winning pitcher Bob Buhl (3-2) each singled home a run in the second for the third place Braves, who trail by four games. The Braves counted 11 of their 12 hits off loser Wilmer Mizell (1-3).

The Cards scored in the fifth on Bob Neiman's first NL home run, one of his three hits. Buhl, the first to put away three complete games on the Braves' staff, gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out nine.

Orlando Cepeda, who drove in four runs, Ed Bressoud and Willie Mays homered as the Giants banged a dozen hits for a sweep of the three-game set at Philadelphia and a 6-0 record against the Phils. It was Sanford's fifth victory in six decisions and his second shutout over his ex-mates.

Gene Conley (2-2) dropped his second to the Giants, giving up their three runs on Cepeda's eighth home run and Bressoud's fourth. Reliever Ruben Gomez, one of the guys the Phils got in return for Sanford two games ago, was tagged for five runs in the ninth. Mays' No. 4 homer, with two on, capped it.

Spring Sports Tests Start

Class A, AA Crowns To Be at Stake

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state high school spring sports championships began today to decide the top Class AA and A high schools in track-field, tennis, golf and baseball.

More than a thousand of Ohio's finest athletes survived the district and regional meets to qualify for the two-day carnival at Ohio State University's athletic plant.

Of the state's 994 high schools, 750 boast track teams, 862 baseball, 263 golf and 142 tennis—but only a relatively few of them qualify representatives to the state meet. For instance, only eight of the 862 baseball teams are here, four in Class AA and four in A.

Golf and baseball launched the big spree at 10 a.m. today, tennis began at 1 p.m., and the track stars began qualifying at the same time. The finals in all four sports are slated Saturday.

Newton Falls - Braceville met Convoy Union and Liberty Union went against Goshen in Class A baseball this morning, with the winners fighting it out for the crown Saturday morning.

At 1:30 p.m. today Cincinnati Elder's winners of the last two years—and four of the last five—met Massillon in one Class AA baseball semifinal, with Lima playing Euclid in the other. The victors vie for the trophy at 11 a.m. Saturday.

All events except track—which costs one dollar—are free to the spectators. The programs—always free heretofore—cost 25 cents this year.

GE Team Meeting Scheduled Today

All members of the General Electric Babe Ruth baseball team are requested to attend an organization meeting at 4:30 p.m. today at the Ted Lewis Park shelterhouse.

A practice scheduled today probably will be postponed due to rain. However, team managers and players will meet to discuss the coming season.

Tressel Is Elevated At Baldwin-Wallace

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lee J. Tressel, football coach at Baldwin-Wallace College, becomes athletic director at B-W next fall. Tressel, who came to Baldwin-Wallace two years ago from Massillon High School, at present is acting athletic director.

He succeeds Ray Watts, who has reached the compulsory retirement age of 65 after 32 years as athletic director.

Mat Program Slated Tonight At Coliseum

A full card of professional wrestling is scheduled at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum tonight.

Heading the program will be Magnificent Maurice, the pride of France and the thrill of all lady wrestling fans. He will be opposed by George Strickland, a Columbus grappler capable of taking the starch out of the foreigner.

Also on the card will be Karol Krauser, one of the most promising young stars in the game. He will battle Oscar Verdu.

Tony Baillargeon, popular French-Canadian, is slated to take on Bill Gallion in the other bout of the evening.

A SPECIAL feature will be a tag team match involving the wrestlers slated earlier in the evening.

The first bout will start at 8:30. Advanced tickets are on sale at Benny's Court and Main Restaurant. Members of the Circleville Booster Club and the Pickaway County Agriculture Society will be on hand to handle concessions.

Gimmigon Finds Lebanon Mud To His Liking

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Gimmigon, owned and driven by William Grove of London, toyed with the competition Thursday night in winning the featured Class C-1 pace at Lebanon Raceway. His 2:21 jaunt through the mile of mud paid $5.20.

An accident during warmups before the night's program started resulted in injuries to Harold Cunningham of Columbus. Cunningham's horse and one driven by Bill Black of Eureka, Kan., collided. Cunningham suffered jaw fractures.

Adios Butler Scheduled In Third Leg of Pace Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adios Butler, recently sold for $600,000—the most ever paid for a harness racing horse—makes his first start of the year tonight as the sulky sport opens a big holiday weekend.

Now a 4-year-old, Adios Butler goes in the third leg of the IHA Spring Pacing Series at Maywood Park in Chicago. He will be opposed by eight other sidewheelers, including Mr. Budlong, winner of the first IHA leg at Rosecroft (Md.) Raceway, and Royal Rick, winner of the second leg at Lebanon (Ohio) Raceway. Others in the field are Brown Star, Avalon Audrey, Adios Oregon, Newport Admiral, Culver Pick and Syndicate.

Clint Hodgins, who drove Adios Butler to pacing's triple crown in 1959, is not scheduled to handle the reins tonight. He probably will be in action at Yonkers Raceway where Thursday night he drove Bye Bye Byrd to victory in the $25,000 U.S.A. test, a prelude to next Thursday's first leg of the $150,000 International Pace Series.

Bye Bye Byrd, harness horse of the year in 1959, finished half a length ahead of his persistent rival, Widower Creed, in 2:01.5. The latter, however, was disqualified for breaking stride near the finish and was moved back to third with O'Brien Hanover gaining the place.

Speedy Pick, who finished fifth in his first 1960 outing, and O'Brien Hanover were named after the race as the final two pacers to represent the United States in the international series. Previously named were Bye Bye Byrd and Widower Creed, New Zealand's Caduceus, Australia's Fettle and Canada's Champ Volo and Mighty Dudley.

Meanwhile, at Yonkers Raceway, N.Y., some of the nation's top trotters will be pitted in tonight's $25,000 free-for-all.

Entered in this event is Senator Frost, owned by Wayne W. Galvin of Wilmington, Ohio, plus Darn Safe, Trader Horn, Silver Song and Tie Silk.

Paret Is Favored To Unseat Jordan

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Welterweight champion Don Jordan risks his title tonight and the smart betting money says he will lose it to 20-year-old Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba.

The nationally televised match is scheduled for 15 rounds in Las Vegas' showy Convention Center. It goes on at 7 p. m. (PDT) with NBC doing the telecast and radio.

Jordan, a highly unpredictable young man of 25 from Los Angeles, figures to be about a 5-7 underdog in this, the third defense of the championship he won from Virgil Akins in Los Angeles Dec. 5, 1958.

Whitey Ford Boots Orioles Out of First Place Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They can be the league-leading Baltimore Orioles or a bunch of second division birds, either way they're dead ducks against Whitey Ford.

The stubby southpaw, bothered by elbow trouble and home run balls, looked as good as ever Thursday night, pitching a three-hitter as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 2-0 and eased the Orioles out of the American League lead.

The loss ended the Birds' winning streak at four and dropped them to second place, .012 percentage points behind idle Cleveland. It's the first time the Indians, with an 18-12 record to Baltimore's 20-14, have been alone in first place this season.

Chicago's third place White Sox moved within a half-game of the lead, ending their slump at four games with a 3-1 victory at Kansas City. Washington defeated Boston 5-2 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Ford gave up a second-inning

Mile Runners Set for Duel

Elliot, Burleson Pitted in California

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Headed by the heralded mile duel between Australia's champion Herb Elliott and Oregon collegian Dyrrol Burleson, the 19th California Relays Saturday night boasts its strongest field.

Included are sprinter Ray Norton, current world's fastest human, 400-meter hurdles record holder Glenn Davis, shot putters Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder and Abilene Christian sprint relay team.

The 100-yard dash matches Norton, ex-San Jose star and co-holder of the world record at 9.3 seconds and Doug Smith, the big surprise from Occidental who beat Ray two weeks ago in the West Coast Relays at 9.4.

O'Brien filed a late entry Thursday to compete against Nieder, O'Brien, the Olympic champion, holds the official world record at 63 feet 4 inches but Nieder smashed the mark with a throw of 65-7 that awaits official recognition.

With Norton and Smith in the 100-yard field is Oregon's Roscoe Cook who won the event in a surprise here last year equalling the world record.

The top interest centers on the mile run matching Elliott, the Aussie with the world record at 3:54.5, and Burleson, the 20-year-old sophomore who last April 23 ran a 3:58.6, breaking the American citizen's record in becoming the second U.S. runner to go under four minutes.

Elliott, despite a sore knee, predicts he'll run under four minutes here, but the collegian has plenty of support among track experts.

Hurricane New SCO Baseball Loop Champs

A single run in the bottom of the ninth inning gave Wilmington a 4-3 victory over Greenfield and undisputed possession of the South Central Ohio League baseball crown this week.

Wilmington finished its league play with a 10-2 mark. The closest competitor was Franklin Heights which ended 7-3, Circleville was 4-5 in the loop.

The champion Hurricane rocked Greenfield in the second extra inning when Harold Mitchell sent a long double to right. Jim Kidd sacrificed him to third and Mike Ewing brought him home with another perfect bunt which rolled between the mound and first base.

Ron Claborn and Marv Gregory combined to handle Hurricane hurling duties, with the win going to Gregory.

GENE Garrison worked for Greenfield until he was relieved in the ninth by Pete Coleman. Garrison was tabbed with the loss.

Circleville the defending league champion lost both its games to Wilmington this season, 4-1 in the first test and 5-4 in the second. Washington C. H. administered both Hurricane defeats.

double by Brooks Robinson and a third-inning single by losing pitcher Skinny Brown, then didn't allow another hit until rookie Ron Hansen tripped with two out in the ninth.

The Yankees beat Brown in the first inning on Tony Kubek's lead-off single, a walk and Bob Cerv's two-out single. Singles by Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson got the other run home in the seventh.

Dick Brown's two-run homer and an RBI triple by Minnie Minoso gave the White Sox their runs in the first three innings against Dick Hall (4-1). Gerry Staley who came in with the bases loaded and one out in the seventh and got pinch-hitter Hank Bauer on a doubleplay ball, saved the victory for Bob Shaw (4-3), who gave up four of the A's five hits.

Pete Ramos won his second in a row with a five-hitter for the Senators, after losing his first five. A two-run single by Julio Becquer capped a winning three-run fifth against Jerry Casale (2-3).

Joe Adcock's at it again and Milwaukee's so-so Braves have come alive, winning four of their last five.

The big first baseman, bothered by platooning and a bad back, has driven in seven of Milwaukee's 17 runs in that spurt while upping his batting average to .352. He was 2-for-4 and rapped across a run as the Braves scored a clinching three in the second inning Thursday night for a 4-1 victory at St. Louis.

San Francisco padded its first place lead to 1½ games over idle Pittsburgh, flattened the Phillies again with a 9-0 victory on Jack Sanford's four-hit pitching and a trio of homers. No other games were scheduled in the NL.

Adcock and winning pitcher Bob Buhl (3-2) each singled home a run in the second for the third place Braves, who trail by four games. The Braves counted 11 of their 12 hits off loser Wilmer Mizell (1-3).

The Cards scored in the fifth on Bob Neiman's first NL home run, one of his three hits. Buhl, the first to put away three complete games on the Braves' staff, gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out nine.

Orlando Cepeda, who drove in four runs, Ed Bressoud and Willie Mays homered as the Giants banged a dozen hits for a sweep of the three-game set at Philadelphia and a 6-0 record against the Phils. It was Sanford's fifth victory in six decisions and his second shutout over his ex-mates.

Gene Conley (2-2) dropped his second to the Giants, giving up their three runs on Cepeda's eighth home run and Bressoud's fourth. Reliever Ruben Gomez, one of the guys the Phils got in return for Sanford two years ago, was tagged for five runs in the ninth. Mays' No. 4 homer, with two on, capped it.

Spring Sports Tests Start

Class A, AA Crowns To Be at Stake

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state high school spring sports championships began today to decide the top Class AA and A high schools in track-field, tennis, golf and baseball.

More than a thousand of Ohio's finest athletes survived the district and regional meets to qualify for the two-day carnival at Ohio State University's athletic plant.

Of the state's 994 high schools, 750 boast track teams, 862 baseball, 263 golf and 142 tennis—but only a relatively few of them qualify representatives to the state meet. For instance, only eight of the 862 baseball teams are here, four in Class AA and four in A.

Golf and baseball launched the big spree at 10 a.m. today, tennis began at 1 p.m., and the track stars began qualifying at the same time. The finals in all four sports are slated Saturday.

Newton Falls - Braceville met Convey Union and Liberty Union went against Goshen in Class A baseball this morning, with the winners fighting it out for the crown Saturday morning.

At 1:30 p.m. today Cincinnati Elder's winners of the last five—met Massillon in one Class AA baseball semifinal, with Lima playing Euclid in the other. The victors vie for the trophy at 11 a.m. Saturday.

All events except track—which costs one dollar—are free to the spectators. The programs—always free heretofore—cost 25 cents this year.

GE Team Meeting Scheduled Today

All members of the General Electric Babe Ruth baseball team are requested to attend an organization meeting at 4:30 p.m. today at the Ted Lewis Park shelterhouse.

A practice scheduled today probably will be postponed due to rain. However, team managers and players will meet to discuss the coming season.

Tressel Is Elevated At Baldwin-Wallace

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lee J. Tressel, football coach at Baldwin-Wallace College, becomes athletic director at B-W next fall. Tressel, who came to Baldwin-Wallace two years ago from Massillon High School, at present is acting athletic director.

He succeeds Ray Watts, who has reached the compulsory retirement age of 65 after 32 years as athletic director.

Mat Program Slated Tonight At Coliseum

A full card of professional wrestling is scheduled at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum tonight.

Headed the program will be Magnificent Maurice, the pride of France and the thrill of all lady wrestling fans. He will be opposed by George Strickland, a Columbus grappler capable of taking the starch out of the foreigner.

Also on the card will be Karol Krauser, one of the most promising young stars in the game. He will battle Oscar Verdu.

Tony Baillargeon, popular French-Canadian, is slated to take on Bill Gallion in the other bout of the evening.

A SPECIAL feature will be a tag team match involving the wrestlers slated earlier in the evening.

The first bout will start at 8:30. Advanced tickets are on sale at Benny's Court and Main Restaurant. Members of the Pickaway County Agriculture Society will be on hand to handle concessions.

Gimmigan Finds Lebanon Mud To His Liking

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Gimmigan, owned and driven by William Grove of London, toyed with the competition Thursday night in winning the featured Class C-1 pace at Lebanon Raceway. His 2:21 jaunt through the mile of mud paid $5.20.

An accident during warmups before the night's program started resulted in injuries to Harold Cunningham of Columbus. Cunningham's horse and one driven by Bill Black of Eureka, Kan., collided. Cunningham suffered jaw fractures.

When the United States battleship Massachusetts was built in 1940, about 100 tons of paper was used in its construction—16 tons for blueprints alone.

Adios Butler Scheduled In Third Leg of Pace Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Adios Butler, recently sold for $600,000—the most ever paid for a harness racing horse—makes his first start of the year tonight as the sulky sport opens a big holiday weekend.

Now a 4-year-old, Adios Butler goes in the third leg of the HTA Spring Pacing Series at Maywood Park in Chicago. He will be opposed by eight other sidewheelers, including Mr. Budlong, winner of the first HTA leg at Rosecroft (Md.) Raceway, and Royal Rick, winner of the second leg at Lebanon (Ohio) Raceway. Others in the field are Brown Star, Avalon Audrey, Adios Oregon, Newport Admiral, Culver Pick and Syndicate.

Clint Hodgins, who drove Adios Butler to paceship's triple crown in 1959, is not scheduled to handle the reins tonight. He probably will be in action at Yonkers Raceway where Thursday night he drove Bye Bye Byrd to victory in the $25,000 U.S.A. test, a prelude to next Thursday's first leg of the $150,000 International Pace Series.

Bye Bye Byrd, harness horse of the year in 1959, finished half a length ahead of his persistent rival, Widower Creed, in 2:01.1-5. The latter, however, was disqualified for breaking stride near the finish and was moved back to third with O'Brien Hanover gaining the place.

Speedy Pick, who finished fifth in his first 1960 outing, and O'Brien Hanover were named after the race as the final two pacers to represent the United States in the international series. Previously named were Bye Bye Byrd and Widower Creed, New Zealand's Caduceus, Australia's Fettle and Canada's Champ Volo and Mighty Dudley.

Meanwhile, at Yonkers Raceway, N.Y., some of the nation's top trotters will be pitted in tonight's $25,000 free-for-all.

Entered in this event is Senator Frost, owned by Wayne W. Galvin of Wilmington, Ohio, plus Darn Safe, Trader Horn, Silver Song and Tie Silk.

Jim Rathman Is Past Due In '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Jim Rathman is overdue to win the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race Monday.

That's an observation — not a prediction.
The soft-spoken 31-year-old veteran from Miami has finished second three times, the last by 23 seconds to Rodger Ward last year.

He has a fine new Watson car, owned by Ken Rich and Paul Lacy of Dallas, with Chick Hrimakey as chief mechanic and Shoskey Yunch as pit crew chief.

Hirashima rode with Rex Mays in the days of two-man cars and turned the wrenches on George Robson's 1946 Indianapolis winner.

Yunch also is a race car builder.

Rathman isn't the first man to drive brilliantly on the Speedway and repeatedly miss the big pot in close finishes.

Harry Hartz took three seconds and two fourths in one five-year span, 1922-26. Then he built a car for Billy Arnold, who led all but the first two laps of the 1930 race!

Rathman, a native of Los Angeles, got his start in rooster races at Carroll Speedway in 1946. He went on to Chicago with the Hurricane Hotrods, then moved into big league racing with his brother Dick, Pat Flaherty ('56 Indianapolis), the late Bob Sweikert and other postwar standouts.

Experts picking Jim to win Monday include Bill France, president of the Daytona International Speedway, where the younger Rathman set a world closed course racing record of 170.261 miles an hour last year in the only Indianapolis-type race ever held there.

Redlegs Face Crucial Series In 18 Days

CINCINNATI (AP)—The next 18 days could be days of decision for the Cincinnati Reds.

They could well determine to a great extent whether the Cincinnatians are going to cut any kind of figure in the National League pennant race or whether they'll just be among the "also rans."

Starting tonight the Reds will have three games at home with the third-place Milwaukee Braves. Then they'll hit the road for a tour that will include games with San Francisco and Pittsburgh, the two top teams in the league, and the Los Angeles Dodgers, who are running fifth. There also will be a series at Milwaukee.

They'll also pay a visit to Philadelphia but even that series with the last place Phils doesn't figure to be any soft touch. Philadelphia has won five of nine games between the two clubs thus far.

Manager Fred Hutchinson figures his pitching staff is in pretty good shape for the series with the Braves. He plans to lead off tonight with Bob Purkey, who has a 3-1 record, and follow with Jay Hook Saturday afternoon and Don Newcombe Sunday.

Carl Willey or Lew Burdette is the probable Milwaukee pitcher for tonight.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Thunderstorms that began in southwest Ohio around mid-afternoon Thursday spread eastward across the southern half of the state and were still in progress late Thursday night.

The main thunderstorm activity was in the central portion, where Circleville had a thunderstorm of torrential rain that left a total of 1.95 inches in 45 minutes and dropped the temperature to 52 degrees. Other significant amounts were Columbus .54 inch and Piquette .58. Little or no rain fell in the northern counties.

Early this morning, heavy cloudiness covered the entire state. Occasional light rain persisted over the southern and eastern portions. Temperaturewise, readings in the low 60s prevailed. Columbus and Cincinnati had 62, Cleveland 63 and Toledo 61.

Considerable cloudiness and scattered showers with a little cooler temperature indicated for Ohio today.

The showers will end by tonight, with partly cloudy weather and little temperature change foreseen tonight and Saturday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average near or slightly above normal. Normal high 75 north to 78 south, normal low 53-56. No large temperature changes although a little warmer Sunday and Monday followed by slightly cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. Rainfall will total around one-half inch, mainly in showers or thundershowers Monday night or Tuesday.

Calumet Farm of Lexington, Ky., has led racing stables in money won at Hialeah in Florida on eight occasions.

The main thunderstorm activity was in the central portion, where Circleville had a thunderstorm of torrential rain that left a total of 1.95 inches in 45 minutes and dropped the temperature to 52 degrees. Other significant amounts were Columbus .54 inch and Piquette .58. Little or no rain fell in the northern counties.

Early this morning, heavy cloudiness covered the entire state. Occasional light rain persisted over the southern and eastern portions. Temperaturewise, readings in the low 60s prevailed. Columbus and Cincinnati had 62, Cleveland 63 and Toledo 61.

Considerable cloudiness and scattered showers with a little cooler temperature indicated for Ohio today.

The showers will end by tonight, with partly cloudy weather and little temperature change foreseen tonight and Saturday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average near or slightly above normal. Normal high 75 north to 78 south, normal low 53-56. No large temperature changes although a little warmer Sunday and Monday followed by slightly cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. Rainfall will total around one-half inch, mainly in showers or thundershowers Monday night or Tuesday.

Friends here were quite shocked to learn of the sudden death on Thursday of last week, of Mr. Marc Schneider at Hamilton, O. Mrs. Schneider was the former Laura Betz of Kingston.

Attending the funeral Saturday morning from here were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Betz, Mrs. Clifford Kelley, Mrs. Leo Smith, Mrs. Jack Donahue, Mr. Paul Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. O. E. Gibson, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelly.

Mrs. Effie Wolf of California, a sister of Mrs. Schneider, is visiting relatives here and was also present.

Miss Mary Harpster went to Stoutsville this weekend to be present, on Friday night, at the commencement exercises of her grandniece Miss Sharon Lee Thompson. She will also be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alta Reichelderfer, for a few days.

Mrs. Mildred Gatwood of Lancaster came Sunday for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ross, and daughter, Betsy.

MRS. LAWRENCE Betz, Mrs. Charles Betz were present at a bridal shower given in honor of Miss Nancy Morris, bride-elect of David L. Snyder, grandson of Mrs. Betz.

The shower was given on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Bousher in Williamsport.

The Ne Plus Ultra Sunday School Class met Monday evening in the Social Room of the church. The president, Mrs. Cecil Bower, gave the devotion. The secretary, Mrs. Charles Miller read the minutes and called the roll. One new member, Mrs. Glenn Ross, was added to the list.

The annual chicken dinner and strawberry supper was discussed and committees appointed. The date of June 8 was selected. Because of this choice, the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be held one week later, on June 15.

The mystery gift went to Mrs. Myrtle Routt. Several short selections of interest were read by Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, after which she presented two contests. Prizes were given to the winners, Miss Mary Harpster and Mrs. Routt.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, strawberries, and coffee were served by the committee composed of Mrs. Lawrence Betz, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Louise Boyd.

Mrs. Marvin Jones, assisted by Mrs. Wayne Delong, entertained the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club Monday at the home of Mrs. Jones near Kingston.

Members came wearing hats made of kitchen utensils. The winning hats were worn by Mrs. Otis Runyan and Miss Grace Dresbach.

The president Miss Gertrude Senff had charge of the meeting. She read an invitation from Mrs. James Hott for the Club to attend the flower show at Scioto Twp. School, Commercial Point, on June 8. A note was also read from Mrs. Harold Braden, a former member, who has moved to Florida.

MRS. W. R. SUNDERLAND reported on the regional garden club meeting recently held at the EUB Church in Chillicothe.

A card was signed to send to Mrs. Frank Haynes who is ill.

The club made plans to furnish table arrangements for the alumni banquet to be held Saturday at the Kingston High School.

Mrs. Harold Knisley entertained to dinner Wednesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Leasingham and children Ronnelle and Ricky, Mrs. Leslie Shepler, and the Knisley children Sherry and Sueann.

At the last meeting of the Athletic Boosters Club, following a pot luck dinner at the high school, new officers were elected for the coming year. They are president, Mrs. Jack Sims; vice president, Harvey Large; secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Kerns; treasurer, Ronald Leasingham.

WHICH TASTES BETTER?

Last night, the man from Wiedemann settled a vital issue in his campaign: does Wiedemann's taste better in a bottle or a can? When asked for an answer, he winked and said, "Neither, friend. It tastes better in your mouth! Wiedemann's is honest-to-goodness beer...whether it comes from a bottle, a can, or a keg!

"It's the most drinkable beer of all because we brew in live flavor...brew out heavy after-taste. So it goes down easy glass after glass!" Why not prove it yourself...try Wiedemann's from the bottle and can!
